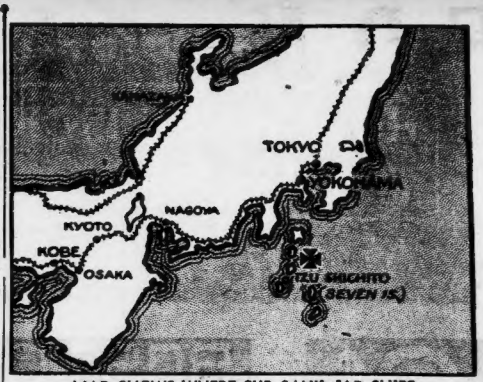
SUB BLASTS JAP SHIP NEAR TOKYO

By the Associated Press

Japan got a preview taste today of the thing she dreads most—a possible blockade of her densely-populated island empire—as imperial headquarters acknowledged an Allied submarine raid within 100 miles of Tokyo in which the 2225-ton freighter Unkai Maru No. 1 was torpedoed and damaged.

The nationality of the attacking craft was not given.

The official admission, as caught and recorded by Associated Press radio interceptors, said:



MAP SHOWS WHERE SUB SANK JAP SHIPS

Japs Admit It

TOKYO, Jan. 9—Penetration of an enemy submarine to within 100 miles of Tokyo was disclosed today when imperial headquarters announced the torpedoing and damaging of the 2225-ton Japanese freighter Unkai Maru No. 1. The announcement said the submarine attack occurred early yesterday morning off the coast of Japan near the Izu Shichito (7 islands) island group which lies south of the entrance to Yokohama and Tokyo.

All of the crew were saved, it added. The nationality of the attacking submarine was not given. The Unkai Maru was stated to have been severely damaged.

Previously, a U. S. Navy bulletin reported that submarines of the American Asiatic fleet had sunk a 10,000-ton Japanese transport and three 10,000-ton Japanese supply ships.

The Navy's communique was the first report in many days from the sizeable underseas force operating in Far East waters at the start of the war a month ago, but naval officials emphasized that the dangerous missions of the submarines made prompt reports foolhardy while operations are proceeding.

SUBS MAKE HART'S TIP COME TRUE

Those who remembered the advice of "Tin Can Tommy" Hart to "watch our submarines" had a grim satisfaction today in a Navy announcement that American submersibles had sunk four Japanese craft in the Far East, and a Jap announcement that announcement that another ship of theirs was attacked and damaged by a sub within 100 miles of Tokyo.

"Tin Can Tommy," of course, is "Fighting Tommy" or "Hard Collar" Hart—or, more formally, Admiral Thomas C. Hart, now commander-in-chief of all the United Nations naval forces in the far Pacific.

ADMIRAL T. C. HART

This 64-year-old sailor, who has those affectionate nicknames tagged on him, is an old submariner from World War I, and he gave his advice to watch our submarines not long after the Japs had launched this war against the United States.

CARRY WAR TO TOKYO

While there is no assurance that the submarine active in waters within 100 miles of Tokyo is an American undersea boat, it is better than even money that it is American, according to many observers.

It is the practice not to give out the score of a submarine until it returns to base; therefore nothing definite can be learned until this one comes back.

But whatever one of the United Nations scored so near the Japanese capital city, the news is significant in that the fight apparently is being carried back to the enemy's home gro—

Malaya Tin, Rubber Cut

LONDON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Reuters said a Singapore broadcast reported today that 30 to 40 per cent of Malaya's tin production still is available to the British, and that the remaining 60 to 70 per cent no longer is available either to the British or the Japanese.

(The implication was that the tin producing facilities in such places as the Ipoh district were destroyed by the British before they withdrew.)

The broadcast said that 50 per cent of the Malay rubber production no longer was available to the British, but was available to the Japanese only under considerable difficulties.

JAP TROOPS MOVE UP TO ATTACK M'ARTHUR

Washington Jan. 9 (AP)

The outlook grew blacker today for the United States and British imperial forces battling to hold the Philippines and the Malay peninsula, the two land flanks of the South China sea.

In the Philippines, the Japanese, pouring in a steady stream of reinforcements to nullify their numerical superiority, massed for an all-out attack against the remnants of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's weary army northwest of Manila.

U. S. OFFICIAL

The War Department in today's communique said operations have dwindled to minor skirmishes in the Philippine battle front, with the Japanese continuing to move troops up in apparent preparation for a heavy attack.

The communique said air activity by the Japanese yesterday was limited to reconnaissance.

Today's U. S. Communique

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The War Department issued the following communique covering operations up to 9 a. m. (EST):

"1—Philippine Theater: Combat operations have dwindled to desultory skirmishes in various sections of the front. The enemy continues to move troops into the forward areas, apparently in preparation for a renewed attack in force.

"Hostile air activity yesterday was limited to reconnaissance flights.

"2—There is nothing to report from other areas."

BESIEGED LENINGRAD, SEVASTOPOL NOW SAFE

OFFICIAL NEWS

London, Jan. 9 (AP)

The six-month siege of Leningrad and the two-month encirclement at Sevastopol were declared virtually broken today with garrisons of the two ports taking up the offensive and the German siege troops themselves beset from both sides.

Russian reports indicated that hemmed-in garrisons and attacking forces driving to their relief would effect a juncture soon—or might already have done so.

(The Moscow radio declared this afternoon that "the enemy continues to retreat in many sectors of the front, losing a great number of men, tanks, trucks and guns." "The initiative has been torn out of the enemy's hands," the broadcast added, "The German machine is broken.")

Military dispatches said that the army's determined efforts to shatter the Nazi siege lines were being aided by hard-hitting units of the Red air force and by increased guerrilla operations wiping out German units and dynamiting supply trains.

German troops which tried for weeks to smash through Crimean mountains into Sevastopol were described as retreating to the north before a strong offensive launched by the port garrison and supported by the guns of the Red fleet.

Jap Tanks Drive for Singapore

Singapore

Jan. 9 (INS)

OFFICIAL NEWS

Heavy fighting on the new Slim river front in western Malaya during which Japanese forces launched a tank and infantry assault was announced today by the British Far Eastern command.

The latest official word from the front indicated the Japanese already are making an all-out effort to crack the new British lines established just south of the Slim river to defend strategic Kuala Lumpur, crude rubber center and railway junction which is regarded as a vital gateway to Singapore.

BRITISH PLAN STAND

The engagement developed after the British withdrew to these new positions with the intention of making a solid stand in defense of Kuala Lumpur.

"Our troops heavily engaged the enemy in the Slim river area all day yesterday," the British communique stated.

"After a preliminary infantry assault, the enemy attacked down the main road with tanks, followed by trucks loaded with infantry.

"Reports indicate the fighting was severe and that casualties were heavy on both sides.

"Enemy aircraft raided Klang yesterday, causing a few casualties.

"Last night a few bombs were dropped on the Singapore area, causing slight damage.

"Our aircraft scored direct hits on a vessel north of the Anambas islands and direct hits on two large enemy merchant ships in the Kuantan estuary."

F. D. Names Landis Defense 'Executive'

By WILLIAM GOODE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9—James M. Landis, dean of the Harvard Law School, today was named "executive" of the office of civilian defense by President Roosevelt in what the White House called a "partial reorganization" of OCD.

JAMES M. LANDIS
Gets High Defense Post

FIORELLO LA GUARDIA
Directs Civilian Defense

Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York will continue as director of civilian defense and will work out "broad matters of policy" in consultation with Landis.

La Guardia also will continue his membership on all federal boards on which OCD is now represented, and will attend cabinet meetings.

(On last Monday International News Service stated in an exclusive story that Mayor La Guardia would not relinquish his post as national director of civilian defense and that President Roosevelt would not ask him to surrender it.)

Landis, who already is New England director of national defense, will, as national executive, be responsible for operational functions and personnel.

$10,000 ANNUAL SALARY

Landis, a former head of the securities and exchange commission, returns to federal service at a salary of $10,000, his term of office to run "at the pleasure of the President."

The White House said Landis was now working out arrangements with Harvard to enable him to devote his full time to civilian defense.

White House Secretary Stephen T. Early, in making the announcement, said:

"The President, Mayor LaGuardia and James M. Landis, dean of the Harvard School of law, having conferred, have worked out an agreement mutually satisfactory to the three of them for what I suppose you might call a partial reorganization of the office of civilian defense."

LaGuardia returned to Washington this morning and advised Early by telephone that he would have his first meeting with Landis in New York on Monday.

20 BLACKOUT RULES ISSUED BY GOVERNOR

Twenty regulations covering blackouts throughout the Commonwealth, issued by Gov. Saltonstall under his emergency war powers, were before the public today.

Everybody was urged to read them, study them and not forget them, for the safety of life and personal property may depend on implicit observance by everybody.

Any violation will be punishable by a fine of $500, or by imprisonment up to a year, or both.

Coincidentally, former State Sen. Thomas J. Lane of Lawrence, recently elected congressman from the 7th Massachusetts district, filed a bill to double peacetime penalties for crimes committed during blackouts.

ALL LIGHTS OUT

Gov. Saltonstall's regulations, which became effective at once, follow:

1—A blackout signal will be an air raid alarm or the extinguishing of street lights, whichever occurs first. The "all clear" will be the signal for the end of the blackout.

2—Upon a blackout signal or at sunset, if that occurs during an air raid alarm, occupants of all premises will extinguish all lights or darken the premises so that no light is visible from the outside.

3—Managers or superintendents of hotels, apartments, office buildings and all other places of multiple occupancy will extinguish all lights—whether in public places or in tenants' rooms—on a blackout signal.

4—Lights may be left on in rooms previously equipped for blackout use so that no light will be visible outside. Skylights must be specially obscured on the outside to prevent reflection of light, and protected from the inside to prevent injury from falling glass.

5—Provision will be made by occupants to extinguish immediately at a blackout signal all lights left burning in premises not occupied at night.

NO OUTSIDE SMOKING

6—All outside lights, including those on work being done in the open, will be extinguished immediately at a blackout signal.

7—All outside activity involving fire will cease between sunset and sunrise, unless arrangements are

Rising Mercury, Snow Predicted

Rising temperatures will break the intense three-day cold wave during the day but gathering clouds will usher in light snow after nightfall, the weatherman predicted today.

The mercury slipped back to eight degrees in Boston during the pre-dawn hours, but the official forecaster looks for readings as high as 25—some 15 degrees warmer than yesterday's high of 10.

In suburban areas, however, subzero temperatures continued. Concord recorded it's lowest reading in four years at 13 below early today, and at Bedford the mercury dropped to 21 below.

The wind, which has been notable for its absence, is due for a return visit with velocities reaching 20 miles per hour.

HOW HEROES AT WAKE SANK 7 JAP WARSHIPS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—A stirring account of how Wake Island's defenders let a Japanese flotilla approach to within point-blank range, then blasted it with death-dealing gunfire, came from the Navy today together with a citation by President Roosevelt of the entire garrison of 400.

In a day-by-day account of the air fighting were four terse lines which told this story:

At sun-up of Dec. 11 a dozen Japanese ships bore down on the island for a landing in force. There were two troop or supply ships guarded by light cruisers, destroyers and gunboats.

The Americans held their fire until the Japanese were within 4700 yards, then opened up with 5 to 3-inch guns. The result was listed in this manner:

"Jap casualties—One light cruiser, one gunboat, two bombers."

It was, the Navy Department declared, an example of "cool courage on the part of Devereux's men that ranks with the classic 'Whites of Their Eyes' line of Bunker Hill, in the opinion of ranking officers at Marine Corps headquarters."

U. S. Official

Maj. James P. Devereux was commander of the Wake garrison.

Forty-seven hundred yards is over two miles, but the Navy Department described this officially as virtually "point blank range" for guns of that size. In the Japanese flotilla were undoubtedly heavier guns, as their cruisers are armed with either 5.5 or 6.1-inch rifles.

WIN F. D. PRAISE

The additional reports on Wake's fight were received by the Navy from Majors Paul A. Putnam and W. Baylor of the tiny air force there. The reports had been dispatched from Wake Dec. 20 by a patrol plane.

On the basis of them, the Navy credited the garrison with sinking a destroyer and a gunboat in addition to a cruiser, submarine and three destroyers previously listed.

Roosevelt's citation of the garrison said their defense "has been noted with admiration by their fellow countrymen and the civilized world and will not be forgotten so long as gallantry and heroism are respected and honored."

The text of the communique, No. 25 by the Navy, and based on re-

ATLANTIC AVE. EL MUST BE TORN DOWN

In a 62-page decision, written by Chief Justice Fred T. Field, the full bench of the State Supreme Court today declared forfeited the rights of the Boston Elevated with regard to the Atlantic ave. structure and franchise.

This means the Elevated must remove the structure there at its own expense, an issue which has been fought for over a period of severa years by property owners and various government officials.

In its decision the court upheld Special Asst. Atty.-Gen. Edward O. Proctor, who argued the Elevated had forfeited its Atlantic ave. franchise because it had abandoned service there.

Sugar Ration U. S. Threat To Hoarders

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The government may order sugar rationing for consumers, authoritative sources said today, in order to halt an unwarranted hoarding epidemic.

Disclosing that such action was being considered, these sources declared that the supply situation in itself did not require rationing, but that regulation appeared necessary to assure an equitable distribution among all users.

Present supplies were said to be ample, and prospects were that they would continue sufficient throughout the year.

Nevertheless, officials reported, many consumers have been buying in excess of normal needs and storing the extra supplies for use in event of a shortage and higher prices, such as occurred in the first World War.

It was explained that these practices, if allowed to continue much longer, might result in acute shortages later for non-hoarders.

SALES SET RECORD

Agriculture Department sugar experts said heavy purchases for hoarding purposes began last year. This activity was reflected in record sales. Distribution increased from an annual average of about 100 pounds in the 1933-40 period to almost 130 pounds per person in 1941.

Nutrition authorities, on the other hand, say an average of only about 65 pounds is ample for a good, palatable diet. Most Americans, they added, eat too much sugar for health's sake.

Sugar experts take the position that there is no justification for abnormal purchases of sugar. They point out that consumers are protected against price advances by a ceiling order, and that prospects are fairly bright that supplies will be sufficient to maintain a 100-pound-per-year rate of distribution.

RED STOCKS LOW

However, this country may be called upon to share these supplies with Russia as well as to furnish Great Britain with larger quantities than it has been getting from the Western Hemisphere. Russia has lost rich sugar-beet producing areas to the Germans.

Such developments, added to transportation complications and farm labor shortages in this country, could conceivably reduce supplies below the normal level.

Officials doubt, however, that the reduction would cut distribution below 90 pounds per person. In the first World War, distribution was reduced to about 78 pounds under a rationing system.

Bay State to Probe Local Sugar Crisis

The purported sugar crisis, which has produced a flood of complaints of profiteering by certain dealers, is to be probed by the state, according to James T. Moriarty, state commissioner of labor and industry.

Moriarty warned that if complaints are substantiated against dealers he will recommend to the Office of Price Administration that offenders be deprived of sugar supplies from distributors.

Following Commr. Moriarty's statement, John J. McBride of the Division of Necessities of Life, cautioned that no consumer should pay more than 6 cents a pound for sugar in bulk, or more than 13 cents for two pounds in a container.

GIRL WITH SHOE LACE RESCUES 2 BOYS FROM DROWNING

WEYMOUTH, Jan. 9—Shirley Haslett, 18-year-old Weymouth high school student, was being congratulated today for her plucky rescue of two boys who had plunged through the ice into Whitman Pond.

The girl was seated on the bank and had put on one skating shoe when she saw 6-year-old Kenneth Heitman of Lake Shore dr. break through the ice. An 18-year-old youth known only as "Jerry" went to the boy's rescue, but also plunged into the icy water.

Shirley raced out on the ice on her one skate, carrying the other shoe in her hand. Crawling face-down over the cracking ice, she extended the shoe in her hand to the older boy who was struggling in the water with Kenneth.

"Jerry" grabbed the shoe lace and Shirley pulled him to a safe edge of the ice where he managed to push Kenneth up to her. Though he was tiring quickly, "Jerry" still clung to the lace and also saved himself.

Beacon Hill Aviatrix Is Married in Plane

High above the Atlantic, with poyerful airplane motors providing the "music," a Beacon st. society girl and famed aviatrix and a Malden amateur flier were married today.

Miss Ruth Laura Ingalls, daughter of former Rep. and Mrs. Alfred W. Ingalls of 60 Beacon st., also a Lynn school teacher, was wed to Fritz Carl Castenduckes of Malden in surroundings with which they are most familiar.

Mrs. Helen Robers of Cambridge, sister of the bride, was matron of honor at the ceremony performed aboard a plane flying from Boston to Portland.

Miss Ingalls, close friend of the late Amelia Earhart, is a qualified flying instructor and took up flying at Mis Earhart's request.

She worked at Bangor airport during summer vacations from her school teaching duties to obtain the necessary lessons and qualified last fall as a first class instructor.

She holds the highest license issued by the government and recently offered to fly bombers to Europe. Also, in her efforts to serve the democracies, she suggested she be allowed to teach Army and Navy cadets the art of flying.

Miss Ingalls is a graduate of Radcliffe, class of '31. While taking a post-graduate course she was the only woman night-watcher at Harvard Obse.vatory.

The bridegroom is a chemist.

HE KNOWS ABOUT JAPS

Admiral Hart, described by associates as "a peppery sort of fellow" and "not a guy who can be pushed around," spent much of his 44 Navy years commanding subs—in World War I he headed several divisions of the "pig boats" or "tin cans" in European waters.

Tall, slim and gray now, he was only 20 when he stepped from Annopolis to sea duty in the Spanish-American War. Because he has been commander-in-chief of the U. S. Asiatic fleet since July, 1939 and thus has been closest to Japanese territory (and ambitions), he has always had discretionary power to deal with the Japs "on the spot."

CHINESE NOW AT NANCHANG, CANTON GATES

Chungking, Jan. 9 (AP)—The Chinese reported today their forces had penetrated the outer defenses of two of the most important Japanese-held cities of South China, Canton and Nanchang, capitals of Kwangtung and Kiangsi provinces.

An army communique declared two Chinese columns had driven into the northern and northeastern suburbs of Canton in the course of an assault on the outer defenses of that million-population city that began three days ago. Fighting was still in progress.

Chinese dispatches said heavy casualties had been inflicted on the defenders of Nanchang in an attack that penetrated the outer barriers of the city.

Canton and Manchang have been in Japanese hands since 1938.

The communique reported further heavy punishment dealt Japanese columns retreating from their shattered attempt to take Changsha, capital of Hunan, and successes on many other fronts in central and southern China.

An encircling movement against Ichang, vital Yangtze river port above Hankow which marks the high tide of Japan's drive into China, lso was recorded. In a battle northeast of Ichang 200 casualties were inflicted on the Japanese.

U. S. Speeding Draft Of 4 Million Army

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Officials disclosed today that inductions into the Army were being stepped up to double or triple the peace-time rate, and indications were that the immediate goal was a hard-hitting land force of 4,000,000 men.

The Army is accelerating the induction of present registrants, which include about 1,000,000 already classified as 1A, without waiting to draw from the 9,000,000 men between 20 and 44 inclusive who are expected to register Feb. 16.

No limit has been set on the war-time size of the Army to be sent to Britain or anywhere else the high command may deem advisable.

Secretary Stimson says the number to be drawn from the 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 available fit men will be determined by the needs as they arise.

Present strength has been placed at around 1,700,000 officers and men, and plans already under way would increase this to 2,000,000. Appropriations have been made to provide complete equipment for another million and critical equipment for a fourth million.

QUOTAS ARE SECRET

Although the War Department has issued orders against publication of draft calls and quotas for each area, officials made no secret of the fact that the draft rate was being doubled and might soon be trebled, if such has not already been ordered.

Revised figures on the number of draftees to be put in uniform this month and next month from the present pool of registrants will not be announced, but before the United ...ies formally entered the war the combined January-February total had been set at 192,000.

MANY VOLUNTEER

Of the 17,500,000 men between 21 and 36 already registered, about 900,000 now are in active service. Selective service officials estimate another 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 could be obtained, if necessary, without dipping into the new Feb. 16 registrants.

However, it is likely that many of the latter, especially the younger men, will be inducted early along with the existing eligibles.

New men are not coming exclusively from draftees. December volunteers may exceed 60,000, nearly double the previous record of 39,589 obtained in May, 1917.

Cards are now being printed for distribution to the nation's 6500 draft boards, in preparation for the Feb. 16 registration.

All male citizens and some non-citizens born on or after Feb. 17, 1897, and on or before Dec. 31, 1921, must sign up on that day between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m.

Malden Official Held as Driver Of Death Car

James E. Connors, 27, of Gale st., Malden, who was sworn in as a member of the Malden city council Monday, was arraigned in Malden court today on charges of manslaughter and ordered held in $1500 for the grand jury.

According to police, a car driven by Connors struck Mrs. Mary Calmen, 37, of Second st., Medford, as she was crossing the Fellsway shortly after midnight New Year's eve. Police said Connors stopped and put the woman in his auto as if to take her to a hospital.

Patrolman Vincent J. Amarosa of Medford testified that some time later he found the car parked about two miles away with the woman still in it. He said Connors struggled with him when he attempted to look into the car.

The woman was removed to the Lawrence Memorial Hospital, where she died the next day.

Connors also pleaded not guilty to charges of drunkenness, operating under the influence, operating so as to endanger, and leaving the scene of an accident.

Dr. Marsh Takes Post On Relations Board

Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, president of Boston University was preparing today to join the executive committee of the newly formed Industrial Relation Council of Metropolitan Boston, as representative of the public. He has accepted the proffered post.

Dr. Marsh was the unanimous choice of the executive committee, made up of four representatives of labor and four of management.

Soldier, Girl 1500 Miles Apart Wed Over Phone

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9 (AP)—A husky, young soldier with close-cropped blond hair picked up a telephone in a minister's study. His fiancee, 1500 miles away, picked up another telephone in the parlor of her rooming house.

And eight minutes and $6.85 worth of telephone time later Pvt. Charles R. Bogar and Mrs. Margaret Pickering were united in marriage in a long distance ceremony

It was as simple as that—the marriage of Bogar in San Francisco and Mrs. Pickering in Hutchinson, Kan., last night. But today Bogar was back at his post at Ft. McDowell.

The two had planned to wed on Christmas Day in Salt Lake City in a regular, face-to-face ceremony. But Bogar was transferred to the west coast on Dec. 1

The young soldier, who enlisted two years and a half ago at Ft. Riley, Kan., had the Rev. Bernard S Davis standing by his side in the study in the basement of the First Christian Church. Both stood by the desk, the telephone receiver tight against Bogar's ear.

In Hutchinson, the bride stood in the parlor of her rooming house before a small group of friends and relatives and with the Rev. Claude J. Miller, also of the Christian Church, at her side.

"Rev Miller spoke in the telephone and said: 'I am the Rev. Claude J. Miller. Margaret is here by me. She has the license. Everything is legal and proper.'

"He said I was to be the witness at this end. I was to identify the man and say he was beside me.

"Then he read the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians, the love chapter. Then he asked the regular questions: 'You take this man Charles,' etc. And she answered 'I will.'

"Then he said the same thing to Charles and he replied 'I will.' Then the Rev. Miller prayed and pronounced them man and wife.'"

Farm Price Test Vote in Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Counting heavily upon the direct appeal made by President Roosevelt, administration leaders agreed to a test vote in the Senate today on who should apply the brakes to farm prices under the pending wartime price control bill.

Sen. Brown (D.) of Michigan, floor manager for the measure, said he expected to muster enough Senate votes to defeat the demands of the Senate farm bloc that the secretary of agriculture be given a veto power over farm prices to be fixed by the price administrator designated in the bill.

Both Brown and Democratic Leader Barkley, Kentucky, agreed that the vote probably would be close but Barkley said the Administration should win "by a few votes."

"The President's letter should be a potent argument with a majority of Senators," Brown said, referring to President Roosevelt's telegram yesterday asking the Senate to place wartime price controls under a "single responsible individual."

Sen. Bankhead (D.) of Alabama, sponsor of the amendment and leader of the bi-partisan farm group supporting it, said the President's appeal might swing some votes, but he refused to concede defeat. The Bankhead amendment would require prior approval by the Secretary of Agriculture of any price ceilings ordered on farm products.

"This does not involve a principle of government; it's merely a matter of policy," Bankhead said. Previously he had claimed support from 50 Senators.

STATE FARM ON GUARD FOR NEW OUTBREAK

Fearing a recurrence of the New Year's Day murder of three guards in the defective delinquent section of Bridgewater State Farm, an emergency has been declared to offset a shortage in guards, it was disclosed today.

There are only 36 guards on duty in the section—eight short of the required number—and declaration of an emergency will permit them to work more than 48 hours per week at overtime wages, it was learned.

The step was taken by Supt. James E. Warren at the Bridgewater institution with the permission of Arthur T. Lyman, State Commissioner of Correction.

Lyman said the shortage of guards led inmates to plan a mass escape and in resisting the break the three guards were murdered and two inmates beaten into submission.

Similar action has been taken at some of the 17 state hospitals caring for mental cases, Dr. Clifton T. Perkins, mental health commissioner, said.

There are now 955 vacancies at these hospitals, he said, most of them in jobs paying only $480 to $600 annually, with maintenance.

BEAL, LABOR LEADER, FREED FROM PRISON

A former Lawrence labor leader, Fred Erwin Beal, 43, was to be released from State Prison in Raleigh, N. C., today after serving less than three years of a sentence originally set at 17 to 25 years.

Fred I. Beal

Beal, who was in trouble with Lawrence police as far back as 1926 on free speech controversies, was sentenced with six co-defendants in connection with the murder in 1929 of Police Chief Oscar F. Aderholt of Gastonia, N. C., during a labor disturbance.

He was convicted on a charge of conspiracy to murder, but while free on bond pending appeal fled to Russia and stayed there for several years.

At first he refused to return, and the case became an international incident, but he suffered a change of heart regarding Communism, and on his return here openly renounced the Communist cause.

He entered State Prison in Raleigh, Feb. 16, 1938, and his original sentence was reduced to 10 to 13 years about 18 months ago. His release today under parole conditions was announced by Gov. Broughton of North Carolina.

Beal is expected to take a job in a New York city textile plant among workers in an industry of which he was once an agitator.

2 Milkmen Fire Heroes

Two Lynn milkmen were carrying gold watches today, presented them at a dinner by fellow employes at which they were praised for detecting fires in two large dwellings.

Norman Johnson, during an early morning round of deliveries, discovered a fire in a three-story house which developed into a three-alarm blaze. He roused the occupants and slipped away on the arrival of the firemen without disclosing his identity.

Leon Gallagher was delivering milk at an apartment hotel when he noticed fire in an elevator well. He told the telephone operator and some 200 occupants were able to escape without injury. Both men are employed by H. P. Hood & Sons.

Bank Depositors Get Final Dividend

Final dividend checks for depositors in the closed Federal National Bank of Boston were being forwarded today by the receiver, Frederick S. Deitrick, to Washington.

When the checks, totaling 4.94 per cent of the assets, are returned to Deitrick with the Comptroller of the Currency's signature, they'll be relayed on to the depositors, bringing the total recovery to 49.94 per cent of the balance on deposit when the bank closed.

Sacco Held in Hold-Ups

Joseph P. Sacco, 28, of American Legion highway, Revere, today faced three Middlesex grand jury indictments in connection with the holdup of an Everett night club proprietor Dec. 6.

No bills were returned against Joseph Palumbo and Paul Margiotta, both of Brooklyn, N. Y., against whom similar charges had been brought.

One indictment charged Sacco with the armed robbery with intent to kill or maim Sarro Vaccaro, 45, owner of the Valley Club, Third st., Everett, who was held up as he left the premises and robbed of $800 in cash and two diamond rings valued at $3300.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR CAR LAST

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT, Jan. 9 (Wide World)—Because today's armies travel on rubber and virtually all the world's supply comes from the Dutch East Indies and Malaya, in the Pacific war zone, the average motorist has no choice in the matter of taking care of his tires or putting away his car for the duration.

The things that can be done to prolong the life of any tires, new or used, are numerous but simple. The main thing is to keep them properly inflated. It has been said that five pounds of under-inflation cuts tire life 20 per cent. Check and reinflate once a week.

OIL RUINS RUBBER

If you have a new spare tire in your equipment you're lucky, but unless you use it you're bound to lose heavily on your investment. An inactive spare has been described by one tire maker as similar to an unused muscle, and a liability. Recommended is the switching of wheels, including the spare, every 3000 to 5000 miles.

The switching recommended places the spare on the left front wheel; the left front is moved to the left rear, which is transferred to the right front. The right front is moved to the right rear and the right rear to the spare holder.

The things to avoid if you would increase the life of your tires include fast starting, fast driving and fast stopping, bruising the casings by backing into curbs or by striking road bumps and holes. A thing to remember is that oil is a natural enemy of rubber. It acts on rubber like acid on metal. Don't park your car on an oil-coated garage floor.

S. P. Thacher, manager of the fire engineering and service department of the United States Rubber Co., maintains that the safe life of a tire at 50 miles per hour is only half of what it is at 30 miles an hour. At 7? miles an hour it falls to only 30 per cent of normal expectancy. Thus moderate speed is recommended if you would keep your car rolling on safe rubber.

RE-GROOVE FIRST

Uneven and spotty wear of tires suggest the need for wheel alignment; small cuts should be repaired promptly.

When you have observed all these suggestions and obtained something like three or four years of normal wear out of your tires, you can go still further with regrooving and then recapping. You may have some prejudices against these latter operations, but you may have to accept them as part of the sacrifices required by the war.

Re-grooving is done when the treads are worn down almost to the bottom of the non-skid design in the center; recapping comes when the re-grooved substance is worn down almost to the bottom of the grooves. One warning goes with these rejuvenation jobs — they must not be driven at high speed.

Tomorrow's article will tell how good care will give longer life to your battery.

Youth Admits 20 Burglaries

More than 20 burglaries in the Back Bay, Roxbury, Jamaica Plain and Brookline were admitted today by a youth who was a lifeguard last summer at a Boston beach.

But he said he doesn't mind going away "as long as I can get back to Concord for the basketball season."

The 18-year-old burglar, whose loot totaled approximately $12,000, according to police, lives in Roxbury and will be charged in Roxbury court with seven counts of breaking and entering and six counts of larceny in that district alone.

Two pals worked with him, he admitted, and he also admitted—somewhat sheepishly—they had torn up $570 worth of U. S. Postal Savings Bonds, taken from a Brookline house, because they thought they were not negotiable.

Meanwhile the youth's two pals had been arrested a week ago for breaking open telephone coin boxes.

Langley Is 'Sunk'; Fishing Expedition?

TOKYO, Jan. 9 (Official Broadcast Recorded by AP)—Imperial headquarters declared today the United States aircraft tender Langley had been sunk by Japanese submarines yesterday southwest of Johnston Island.

(The Japanese have previously made various assertions that they had sunk or damaged the Langley in what Americans have construed to be "fishing expeditions" for information.)

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (INS)—Heinrich Himmler of the fixed tiger smile and Chief of the Gestapo, was feeling his oats. In collusion with others like Sepp Dietrick (commander of Hitler's crack bodyguard of some 25,000 men in the field) Himmler was pressing Hitler for an air force unit attached solely to SS troops and as independent in operations of the Luftwaffe as Hitler's bodyguard of the regular army. That is, they fight as part of the regular army but in a sector all their own by plan and on command of Hitler himself.

These highly equipped troops are always the first to dash into a captured capital, probably with the idea of symbolizing the arrival there of Hitler. Himmler wanted a similar arrangement for his SS troops, on the contention that they go into occupied lands and do special work such as subduing resistance and cleaning up the enemy wherever they find him.

He argued for a special air force unit directly under his command.

Goering scotched that plan with much shouting and roaring, declaring that he was boss of the Luftwaffe as it stood or not at all. He won out, but naturally not without raising dust between himself and Himmler, all to the silent delight of Ribbentrop.

Then, after Hess had flown the coop, new troubles broke with the advent of the little Nazi Bormann as successor to the Deputy-Fuehrer. Bormann was one of the radical fanatics from the beer halls for whom Goering had no great love. Hess in many ways had been a conservative like himself.

Pierre Huss

Bormann launched a new pressure campaign against the Catholics and an all-out crusade against the Jews. Soon convents all over Germany were being closed and the rabid flame of fanaticism lurking in many Nazi breasts throughout the Reich was being fanned to dangerous proportions. The Gestapo dragged thousands of Jews away from home and threw them to die into Ghettos of Poland.

Goering and other conservative men of influence of the Reich were swamped with protests, all frantically pointing out that the renewed persecution of the Catholics was getting them up in arms just at a time when the war and hardships of sacrifice in Russia required every ounce of unity.

Again Goering went to bat with Hitler.

He produced appeals from influential persons in all corners of the Reich.

Hitler had to order suspension of Bormann's campaign against the Catholics, but it was merely a truce. Sooner or later the Nazis again are going to lock horns with the Catholic church, and settle the issue their own way.

The Bormann war on the Jews could not be stopped and raged with unbroken cruelty through to the end of 1941. The Nazis were boasting that no Jews would be left inside Germany.

ARMY SORE SPOT

The parading and marching and carrying of side-arms by storm troopers always had been a sore spot with the army, and was part of the cause which led to the 1934 clean-up. Much of that blood-purge was intended to show once and for all who was to have the upper hand.

Men of higher government and industrial standing, and some courageous ones in the educational fields, kept harping on the fact that there should not be two governments in the Reich; in other words they considered and always will consider the Nazi Party a shadow government to the proper machinery of state in the Wilhelmstrasse. They said it should be done away with once and for all.

When Hess moved off to Scotland the shock to the Nazi Party was terrific; its standing was at low ebb and everybody said that the Third Reich of Adolf Hitler definitely had been transformed from a party into a military state. There was cheering and celebrating and much toasting in the circles who hate the Nazi party.

HEATED SESSIONS

Inside the Chancellory, there were heated sessions and acid words. Hitler paced the floor and flared like a torch. Goering and with him many of the higher generals, pressed home to the Fuehrer that now was the time to co-ordinate the ruling machinery in a single centralized form.

The Nazi party ran all labor and social undertakings in the Reich, yet everything remained under split authority.

The military forces had maintained an independent standing but only because of the war and the constant battle for independence.

The arguments ran back and forth and the Russian War put no stop to it. Hitler refused to listen and appointed Nazi after Nazi to important posts in embassies abroad and in occupied lands.

Goering also was carrying the battle to him on the church. It got so that Hitler looked askance at the ringleader who seemed to differ with him in the most trying moments. He broke into a temperamental outburst one day and gave Goering a tongue-lashing. They were no longer addressing each other by the familiar "Du".

"Remember this, Goering, I am first of all a Nazi and I shall remain a Nazi and a fanatic all my life," Hitler is said to have told Goering at Fuehrer Headquarters.

"I organized and built this party from the bottom up and I intend to keep it strong and ready for everything. It has its faults and weaknesses, as it always had, and it changes as time goes on.

"The Nazi Party in no sense of the word is what it was in temper and purpose some years ago; it isn't the same as it was a year ago, and in fact it will not be the same a year from now. But the Nazi Party is my party, and when I have finished creating the New Germany of my time it will be a Nazi Germany.

"Nothing on earth can change that."

Goering was in the doghouse, but he moved about as freely as ever, putting steam behind the punching power of the Third Reich, yet up to the end of 1941 he had not rehabilitated himself in the eyes of the Fuehrer.

A man like Hitler has no real friends, and he goes at all times on the principle that the law of the jungle is that of survival of the fittest. He can take no chances and brook no interference.

The same goes for Goering in a different way, and for Ribbentrop and all the rest, all of whom know that they are living on a volcano apt to explode in their faces any day

How Hitler plans to escape Napoleon's mistakes in life and in death. Begin this amazing revelation by Huss tomorrow.

Pierre Huss, for eight years International News Service correspondent in Berlin, reveals his discoveries about the personal lives and quarrels of the Nazi bigwigs seeking prestige with the puppet-master Hitler.

NAZIS LEAVE TYPHUS TROOPS BEHIND TO INFECT RUSSIANS

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1942)

LONDON, Jan. 9—Nazi forces retreating before the Russian sh are abandoning their typhus stricken troops to whatever im fate may be in store for them, Dr. Leslie Haden Guest, noted British author and doctor, charged today.

One reason for this, he declared i an exclusive interview with International News Service, is an attempt to infect civilians with the deaded scourge and through them pass it on to the onrushing Soviet hops.

Dr. Haden Guest told a grim ory.

"The German high command with typical Teutonic ruthlessness is abandoning its typhus-stricken troops during the retreat to the west," he said.

"They hope these troops will infect civilians and thus pass on the disease to the advancing Russian troops, who also are vulnerable to the disease, but with their superior nursing organization they are more capable of providing ameliorizing treatment.

"I am quoting Dr. Hugh Smith of the Rockefeller Institute, who is an expert on typhus, when I say that a retreating army infected by typhus must suffer between 40 and 50 per cent fatalities.

"The typhus epidemic among Nazi troops ought to be regarded as a warning of what we will have to contend with when the war is concluded. There is bound to be lack of fuel and food in the territories overrun by the German army.

"It probably will exact a death toll far in excess of the deaths caused in battle."

JAPS SAY INVASION OF U. S. SIMPLE, JUST LIKE IN 1812

TOKYO, Jan. 9 (Cfficial Broadcast Recorded by AP)—The Japan Times and Advertiser, government organ, declared today that once a Japanese landing is made on the American continent "it will be a simple matter for a well-trained and courageous army to sweep everything before it."

In an article appearing under the title "Can the United States Be Invaded?" the newspaper declared:

"The contention that the Enemy Report

United States cannot be invaded is as much a myth as that the Maginot Line could not be taken, or that Singapore and Pearl Harbor are impregnable."

The paper asserted that fighting craft of the Japanese Navy already have carried the war to the shadows of San Francisco's Golden Gate, and asserted that air attack alarms have been sounded in many Pacific coast cities, "bringing panic among the frightened citizenry."

The article said the United States had been invaded in the War of 1812 and that "it will be invaded again."

In the War of 1812 the British landed in Maryland and Louisiana because the American Navy "was not strong enough," the paper said.

Now, it continued, with the American Navy "badly crippled as a result of the Japanese victory at Pearl Harbor, it is within the realm not alone of possibility but of probability that the armed forces of this country will land on the American continent."

The paper predicted that all the Phillipines and Singapore would fall to the Japanese in the not far distant future, and asserted that after that "it will be for us to say when, where and how we will strike."

5 British Towns Machine Gunned

LONDON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Five southeast coast towns were machine-gunned today by two planes. There were three serious casualties and damage to farm buildings and a vicarage.

Jap Bombs Miss Dutch Oil Target

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Jan. 9 (AP)—Three Japanese bombers yesterday morning attacked Tarakan, important Dutch island military outpost and oil centes off the coast of north Borneo but caused no damage, a communique said today.

Dutch defenders shot down one Japanese plane, killing the entire crew, it said, while none of the bombs of the remaining two bombers hit their mark.

U. S. Won't Press Eire

WASHINGTON, Jan 9 (INS)—There are strong indications in responsible quarters in Washington today that the United States is not going to press Eire for the use of Irish naval and air bases at the present time.

The American government would like to have the use of Eire bases, but it feels it has enough trouble on its hands at present.

Another RAF Attack Fires Base at Brest

LONDON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Numerous fires were left burning in the German-occupied naval base at Brest, France, after a strong RAF bombardment last night — the fourth consecutive night of attack on that uneasy haven of the German battleships Shcharnhorst and Gneisenau.

The air ministry communique also said the docks at Cherbourg were burned and acknowledged that two of the British planes failed to return.

AXIS BLASTED ON LAND, SEA IN LIBYA ROUT

OFFICIAL NEWS

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 9 (AP) — With its land supply routes under almost incessant assault from the air, the Axis has attempted by sea to provision the retreating Libyan corps of Gen. Edwin Rommel, the British announced today, but the coastwise ships drew a storm of direct hits from the RAF.

"Our air forces operating in support of our mobile columns over a wide area, had a particularly successful day, destroying a number of enemy aircraft in aerial combat," said a general headquarters communique.

"Enemy communications lines west of El Agheila also were repeatedly attacked. Direct hits were obtained on transport vehicles and coastal shipping used to bring stores from Tripoli to beaches at various points on the Gulf of Sirte."

The supply effort of the Axis indicated Rommel, falling back to El Agheila, at the innermost curve of the Gulf of Sirte, might try to make a stand there if supplies could be assured.

The RAF reported attacks "with good effect" on motor transport and shipping near Buerat el Hsun, about 220 miles west of El Agheila on the shore of the Gulf of Sirte, saying that one ship was set aflame.

His main force was moving from the Agedabia area toward El Agheila, 70 miles to the southwest, ahead of a stubbornly resisting rearguard which used extensive minefields to supplement the hazard of mud in hampering pursuit of British imperials.

Australian pilots flying United States-built (Curtiss) Kittyhawk fighters shot down seven out of a formation of more than 50 Axis planes yesterday over the Agedabia area, the RAF reported.

Meanwhile more than 300 miles to the east, units of the British navy joined with land artillery and air forces in an effort to destroy Axis holdout forces in the Halfaya (Helifire) pass area, along the Egyptian border of Libya.

At the other side of Cirenaica, the weather-shielded withdrawal of Rommel's battered but still effective African corps continued with the mobile columns of the British imperials slashing at the stubbornly fighting rearguard.

BRITISH FLANKING MOVE

"Enemy resistance north and south of the main Agedabia-Aghella road was more stubborn than that confronted by our columns from the south (in an attempt at flanking) although bad going in the latter area seriously interfered with the speed of our advance," the communique said.

"As on the previous day, our advance southwest of Agedabia was delayed by further mine fields which evidently had been well sited (Sic) and carefully laid."

The Rommel retreat aroused British fears that the Axis might foil or postpone achievement of Britain's main objective of annihilating the enemy armored forces in northern Africa.

(The effect of the reverses in Libya is being felt in Italy, it was indicated in a report in an anti-Nazi London newspaper, Die Zeitung. It said Mussolini was recalling troops from Balkan-occupied zones because annihilation in Libya would leave Italy "face to face with the danger of direct attack.")

BLACKOUT REGULATIONS TO BE STRICTLY ENFORCED

made satisfactory to the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety that such fire will be extinguished immediately at a blackout signal.

8—Hospitals, first aid stations and emergency posts will be equipped immediately for blackout pursuant to instructions now or hereafter issued by the Public Safety Committee's Medical Divi-

9—Smoking or lighting matches outdoors during a blackout is forbidden.

10—Flashlights of very low intensity and directed downward may be used with white lights preferable to blue outside.

VEHICLES MUST STOP

11—Until further order, all illuminated signs, floor lighting, store window lighting or any other display lighting visible from the outside will be extinguished from sunset to sunrise, unless arrangements satisfactory to the Public Safety Committee have been made to turn off such lights immediately at a blackout signal.

12—No vehicle will be operated on any street during a blackout except an emergency vehicle given a special license by the registrar of motor vehicles. The regulation does not apply to vehicles of the armed forces, State Guard, police, fire departments, ambulances or Post Office Department.

13—At a blackout signal, operators of vehicles other than the exceptions listed above will reduce speed to not more than 15 miles an hour immediately, drive to the side of the road or curb and stop. They will extinguish lights and seek shelter; they will not park at intersections, hydrants, police stations, hospitals, fire stations, emergency stations or other places specified by the Public Safety Committee.

14—Railroad companies will arrange for movement of railroad traffic during a blackout to comply with orders herein set forth, or in such other manner approved by the Public Safety Committee. Railroad buildings will be subject to similar procedure.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS OUT

15—At a blackout signal, all street lighting will be extinguished as rapidly as possible without interrupting electric, gas, water, fire, power and other similar services.

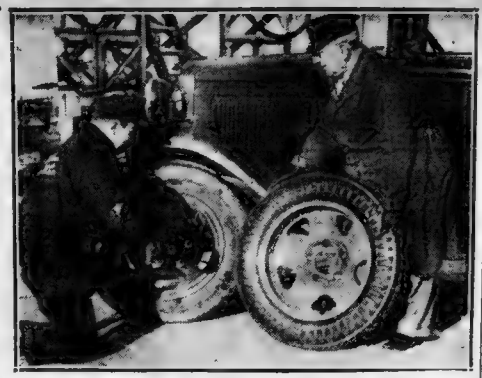
16—At a blackout signal, all traffic lights which have not been shielded in conformity with blackout standards, will be extinguished.

17—Intensity of all fire and police signal lights will be reduced as far as practicable and such lights will be shielded so that no light is visible above the horizontal.

18—Authorities in charge of street, highway or any other outside work will protect excavations or obstructions with adequate white markers, properly shielded lights or watch-

19—The Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety will make such additional rules, subject to gubernatorial approval, for blackouts and air raid warnings as may be necessary to offset proper and immediate compliance with regulations herein set forth.

20—The Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety may authorize a reasonable variation from these rules, whenever, in its opinion, the public welfare, safety or convenience may be promoted thereby.



WALTHAM'S FIRST—Mounted on a wheel, the first truck tire (right) purchased in Waltham since the rationing law went into effect is prepared to replace a worn tire at the Waltham Ice Co. Howard Peterson holds the new tire while Alcede D'Sorce removes the other.

How to Care for Pets During Air Raids

Directions for the care of animals during an air raid were being studied today after the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety urged that pets should not be destroyed because of the threat of attack.

The safety of the civilian population depends on keeping all animals within control under all conditions, the committee said in a manual prepared for local committees.

Listed were these 10 general suggestions:

Keep calm—panic may be fatal to you and the animal.

Keep animals under control—this is the owner's responsibility.

Observe all fire prevention orders.

Learn to use first aid on injured animals.

Handle carefully when in great pain. Use heavy gauntlet gloves or wrap in a blanket so that the animal cannot bite. Keep face away from injured animal's head.

Handle gently when bones are broken. Keep animal on uninjured side and improvise splints.

Stop bleeding by pressure. Use a snug bandage or a tourniquet. Do not leave a tourniquet on for more than 20 minutes at a time.

Treat burns promptly. Cover with tannic acid jelly or strong cold tea.

Do not probe for deeply imbedded foreign bodies.

After the all clear signal, when the occasion warrants, consult your veterinarian.

Rules for Gas Users If Air Raid Comes

Following conferences with officials of all the leading New England gas companies throughout the state, the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety today laid down six official rules for householders to follow during a possible air raid. They are:

1—Do not shut off the gas at the service entrance or meter unless the building is damaged or the gas supply fails.

2—If the gas range is in use, shut off the burners.

3—If you are using any other gas appliance which requires hand operation, shut off the burner.

4—Do not shut off pilots.

5—Do not shut off automatic water heaters, automatically controlled heaters or gas refrigerators.

6—If the building is damaged or the gas supply fails, the valve at the service entrance or meter should be closed. Do not open this valve. Call for a trained man.

3 U. S. Men Play Dead 28 Hours, Escape

By CLARK LEE

FORT MILLS, Luzon Island, P. I., Jan. 9 (by radio) (AP)—A strange story came to light today in the adventure of five youthful American soldiers who escaped encirclement by Japanese invaders by a daring ruse in which three of them "played dead" for 28 hours.

The men were Sergt. Morrelly and Sergt. Mitchell, and Pvts. William Anson, Joe Gillis and William M. Hall, all of Salinas, Cal.

Their unit engaged the Japanese in southern Luzon on Christmas Day but was cut off by an invading force which greatly outnumbered them.

Mitchel and Anson made their way through Japanese lines while the other three convincingly played dead.

Japanese repeatedly paused over their prostrate forms, and one invader detachment ate lunch within a few feet of them.

All five met in the hills later and made their way over rugged country to rejoin the main United States forces.

(The dispatch—by 39-year-old Clark Lee of Oakland, Cal.—is the first received from any of the three Associated Press reporters in the Philippines since Dec. 31, and the first from any American correspondent in the islands since the fall of Manila two days later.

(Lee apparently was able to evade the Japanese forces which marched into Manila and reach Fort Mills on the fortress island of Corregidor, whence he communicated with San Francisco by radio."

REPORTER'S SNEAK RAID O.K.'S CANAL DEFENSE

By FRED PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BALBOA, C. Z., Jan. 9—In a unique experiment, this correspondent tested the Panama Canal defenses in a "sneak" air raid at night and was "shot down" more than a score of times.

In a plane which impersonated a lone raider on a suicide attack, I was everywhere spotted by ground and air forces.

I lived to tell the tale only because of a recognition signal prearranged with Army authorities.

I can testify to the fact that there will be no "Pearl Harbor" in this 30,000-sq. mile defense zone. It has been converted into a virtual "spiderweb" for enemy planes.

EVERY GUN ON HIM

Coordinated like a watch are the anti-aircraft batteries, interceptor commands and observation posts of this American Gibraltar.

My plane was intercepted in attempted attacks from every sector of the compass. Every anti-aircraft battery spotted us in the night and trained its guns on our attacking ship.

No matter which way we approached in our 700-mile zig-zag course, hornetlike flights of pursuit planes rose to meet us.

Landing, I found that ground forces had catalogued every mile of our "secret" flight, timed every move—even including the time when a storm had detracked us.

CAN'T ESCAPE LIGHTS

Our entire course over the Canal Zone was charted on a map, with uncanny accuracy. The co-ordinated system of observation posts, detector and searchlight crews, had followed us from Costa Rica to Colombia and Chirqui volcano.

Even our altitude was recorded exactly.

The interceptor command caught us time after time—10,000 feet, at 800 feet. Although we covered a vast area, we were never out of range of anti-aircraft guns.

All night we prowled over the vital defense area, and everywhere, the blue shafts of searchlights pencilled out into the night to hold us.

Even in landing, we found the airdrome alert, with guns waiting for us, interceptors ready to take the air. Only after delivering the secret code word could we make a landing.

7 in Bomber Chute to Safety

HANNA, Wyo., Jan. 9 (AP)—Seven members of an Army bomber crew parachuted to safety from their falling plane last night. The eighth crewman was missing, but sheriffs' officers said he may have made a safe landing away from his companions.

Two men were brought to the Hanna hospital for minor injuries. No names were released, under Army orders, and details of the crash were withheld.

EXPLAINS WHY HITLER FAILED

LONDON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Gen. W. Ladyslav Sikorski, premier of the Polish government-in-exile, said today after returning from Russia the next three months should bring "further successes to the Russians in throwing the Germans back to a defense line anchored at Smolensk."

When the Germans lost the battle of Moscow, Sikorski told a press conference, they left themselves without any other "natural defense line" short of that formed by the Luga and Dnieper rivers at Smolensk.

Sikorski, who flew to Russia to confer with Stalin and organize Polish forces released from internment after the Russian-Polish agreement, said the Nazis' Russian campaign "was very badly planned and now Germany is having to pay for it."

The Polish leader said the Germans' poor organization was demonstrated by the lack of winter supplies and the fact they have been unable to halt the retreat.

"The carelessness of Hitler has been so great I would not be surprised if he had failed to prepare any defense lines in his rear," Sikorski said.

NAZIS LOOT POLAND, STEAL U.S. SUPPLIES

By MERRILL MUELLER

International News Service Staff Correspondent

CAIRO, Jan. 9 (INS)—Poland is a vast German hospital. The German-occupied country overrun by the Nazis in 1939 now is being bled white to support the Nazi war machine.

This bleeding process is being carried on to such an extent that even American Red Cross material, marked for Polish relief, is being utilized by the Nazi army!

These are but a few of the sensational revelations obtained by this correspondent today in an interview with an officer who has just arrived in Cairo after making an extensive tour of central and southeastern Europe in December.

His name cannot be revealed, but his reports added to a growing pile of intelligence information which indicates that while Germany still is terrifically powerful, hundreds of new weaknesses are appearing in the Nazi armor.

TRAGEDY IN POLAND

Because of this, Hitler's Reich has had to divert much of its concentration from the single objective of aggression to the task of consolidation.

The officer informant emphasized conditions in Poland are tragic—spreading famine and disease, with the Nazis seizing everything they can lay their hands on for German use.

"All over Poland," he said, "they have hastily erected field hospitals. Some of these are just hospital trains parked at sidings.

"All are choked with Axis—principally German—wounded.

"Poland's notoriously cruel winter is adding to the difficulties of caring for these men and for the occupational forces. The latter now openly and blatantly distribute crates of supplies from America through their camps—supplies originally intended to aid the suffering Poles.

STARVATION RULES

"The frank terror outdoes even Gen. Stuelpnagel's 'law' in occupied France that 200 persons will be executed in reprisal for every German assassinated.

"A person who eats as much as 100 grams of bread a day, if he has the money to buy it on the black bourse, is lucky.

"Otherwise the populations of these regions are living on crumbs and scraps . . .

"The Germans have reopened their clean-up campaign in bombed areas, carting off salvaged steel and iron to Germany and taking building materials east for army camps.

"Apparently because they cannot afford further losses and are needed elsewhere, German troops have left the Yugoslavian front, where only a few Nazi officers are acting as observers with the Yugoslav 'oustachi (pro-Nazi) troops and the Italians and Bulgarians.

"And what few German divisions have been returned to the Balkans are being kept well out of sight behind the Bulgarian frontier."

MRS. ROOSEVELT SAYS: Exclusive

Hingham Workers Commute Miles

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT
National Woman Director of Civilian Defense

WASHINGTON, THURSDAY—This question of priorities and tire rationing is bringing the war home to a great many people in a serious way.

For instance, in the naval ammunition base at Hingham, Mass., they have a thousand men at work. Because of poor housing facilities, many of them come from many miles away by car.

They are already considering the possibility of traveling by train and bus, but it is not always an easy thing to work out.

One man I heard of in Alabama, had a prosperous small business which employed nine people only a short time ago. Today, no income is coming in and all his men are out of jobs.. It is not as though they could just walk in to take a defense job.

There are many men out of jobs in other industries in Alabama which are changing over to new types of work.

In the interim, the workers must perhaps retrain. Sometimes the communities have made no provision for free retraining programs for these workers.

Unemployment compensation varies in different states, but it is really never adequate for all of a family's needs. Faced with the rising cost of living, it is totally inadequate.

At the same time, the Byrd Committee in Congress advocates cutting down on WPA and NYA.

It is undoubtedly true that some day we shall have more men at work, and that there is a place for every skilled worker, who will eventually find that place when our production is at its peak.

In the meantime, however, if we do not use the instruments which we have built up, like WPA and NYA, to bridge over temporary conditions which will last anywhere from six weeks to six months, we cannot expect very good civilian morale. War or no war, people do not come home happily to a family of hungry children.

All of the economic theories in the world translate themselves eventually to what happens to people in communities. The sooner all of us understand this, the better it will be for production in the long run.

I had a few people at dinner last night to talk over certain problems and then worked late at my desk. This morning, I walked up to the office of civilian defense, and the snow was clean and beautiful and the air really snappy.

I spent the morning meeting with various people, went to speak to the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Thomas' Church at 11:45, and to see Mr. Norman Davis of the American Red Cross this afternoon. Otherwise my whole day has been spent at the office of civilian defense.

IMPORTANT SOCIETY weddings have been following one another in swift succession since the outbreak of war . . . and in 1942 January bids fair to exceed June as a popular month for orange blossoms and old lace . . .

The war blitzed plans for Alexandrine McKennan's wedding to William Appleton Rust to such an extent the the couple had to recall several hundred invitations to the large wedding they had arranged for Jan. 17 . . . But received unexpected orders to report for duty so the couple hastened to the altar of Leslie Lindsey Memorial Chapel where they were married Wednesday by Dean Van Etten of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul . . .

Daughter of Mrs. Jacob Bowman McKennan of 100 Beacon st., the bride was given in marriage by her brother, William . . . Another brother, Arnett McKennan, who was famous as an actor and writer of peppy songs for Hasty Pudding shows a few years ago, flew home from Ft. Bragg to be an usher . . .

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin and old family lace and carried a beautiful bouquet of orange blossoms, lily of the valley and white camellias . . . Mrs. Peter Sutcliffe of England, the former Anne Bartol of Boston, was the only attendant . . . She wore garnet velvet and carried pink camellias . . . Philip Rust of Delaware was best man for his brother . . .

POST DEB Helen Knowles, daughter of Mrs. Robert W. Knowles of Marlborough st., and Richard Cary Williams, Harvard senior, who announced their engagement just before Christmas, have just settled on Jan. 14 as the date for their marriage . . . It will be a fashionable four o'clock ceremony at Emmanuel Church with a reception at Mrs. Knowles' home . . . Anne Knowles will be her sister's maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Mrs. Fellowes Davis, Priscilla Blumer, Barbara Higginson and Mary Smith . . .

Edward Cary Williams will be best man for his brother . . . They are sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Williams of Milton . . . Gilbert Knowles, Alan Forbes, Jr., Carlyle Cochran, Orme Wilson, Jr., Fellowes Davis, Lewis Spence and Michael Zara will be ushers . . .

PEGGY PORTER, daughter of Mrs. Charles Allen Porter of Beacon st., has had more excitement packed into the past few days than in all her varied experiences as past president of the Vincent Club or as a big game hunter in deepest Africa . . .

Peggy is going to be married tomorrow afternoon to Capt. Chandler Bigelow of the Air Force, after a three-day whirlwind of arrangements due to the prospective bridegroom's sudden summons for duty at Dayton, O., next Wednesday . . .

Tall, blonde and willowy, with a flair for wearing flowing feminine gowns, Peggy would never be taken for a big game hunter . . . Her trips to Africa were an outgrowth of her job in the Museum of Comparative Zoology . . .

"TIGGER," DEBUTANTE Nancy Snow's wistful cocker pup isn't too happy about wearing a wreath of gardenias, but she's doing her bit for the forthcoming gardenia ball by appearing at a preview party at the Charlotte Cushman Club sponsor of the ball. Nancy will be a debutante usher at the ball, Jan. 20, at the Copley-Plaza.

GOD'S CHILDREN

By Elsie Robinson

THE MAN and I were sitting on the top rail of the corral, sizing up a bunch of calves just rounded in, needing branding—worming, maybe. For a long time we sat there, watching the pine tops turn copper, turn gold. Banging our gauntleted hands, whacking our spurred heels against the cold. Saying nothing. Feeling plenty. Feeling sunk.

The man had a hangover. Not drunk. Just that all-sunk feeling a lot of us had after Christmas . . . whether we were sitting on corral rails or behind mahogany desks. Finally the man spit. Seven feet if it was an inch.

"Hear about that fella Churchill goin' to speak this mornin'?" he asked. "Speakin' from the Capitol? Tellin' us, I reckon, about the war. What's new about wars? All war's the same. Just one bird trying to git what the other fella has. Raisin' Cain until he gets it."

He spat again, then climbed down to help handle a rambunctious heifer. I sat thinking. "Just another war . . ." Was that really all it was? Sure, wars were wars. Greed wars . . . hate, pride, revenge wars . . . Beastly business, all of them. But was this newly declared campaign "just another war" like all the rest? Just another greedy, grabby mess? I wondered, hoping. Hoping some reassurance would come out of the dawning. But it didn't. The calves bawled. My throat, too, knotted in misery. There was no promise in that blurred dawn.

We aren't simply another nation, fighting the same old selfish fight. We are Dawn fighting Darkness. We are Hope fighting Hate.

WE ARE GOD'S CHILDREN FIGHTING HIS CAUSE REGARDLESS OF CHURCH OR CREED!

DO NOT FORGET THAT WHETHER YOU BEND OVER A SINK OR OVER A BAYONET YOU ARE HIS CHILDREN . . . BY YOUR EFFORT HIS PLAN WILL LIVE OR DIE!

Mrs. John L. Doherty was hostess at a luncheon party yesterday at the Hotel Touraine for the members of the committee for the 6th annual dance of the Carney Hospital Physicians' Wives, to be held in the Salle Moderne of the Hotel Statler on Friday, Jan. 23.

Plans were completed for the supper dance, which benefits the charity X-ray Fund maintained by the hospital and assisted by the doctors' wives.

Members of the committee who attended the luncheon were Mrs. Paul T. Kendrick, Mrs. Joseph L. Kennedy, Mrs. John Todd, Mrs. Charles A. Robinson, Mrs. Ted Lyons and Mrs. Edward Eagan.

Public Asked to Buy Fuel Supplies Now

To avoid "heatless days" in the cold weather ahead, the public was warned today to place orders for complete winter supplies of fuel immediately.

At a meeting of the Retail Fuel Institute, it was generally felt that prompt deliveries of coal in the near future will be affected by federal restrictions on transportation facilities.

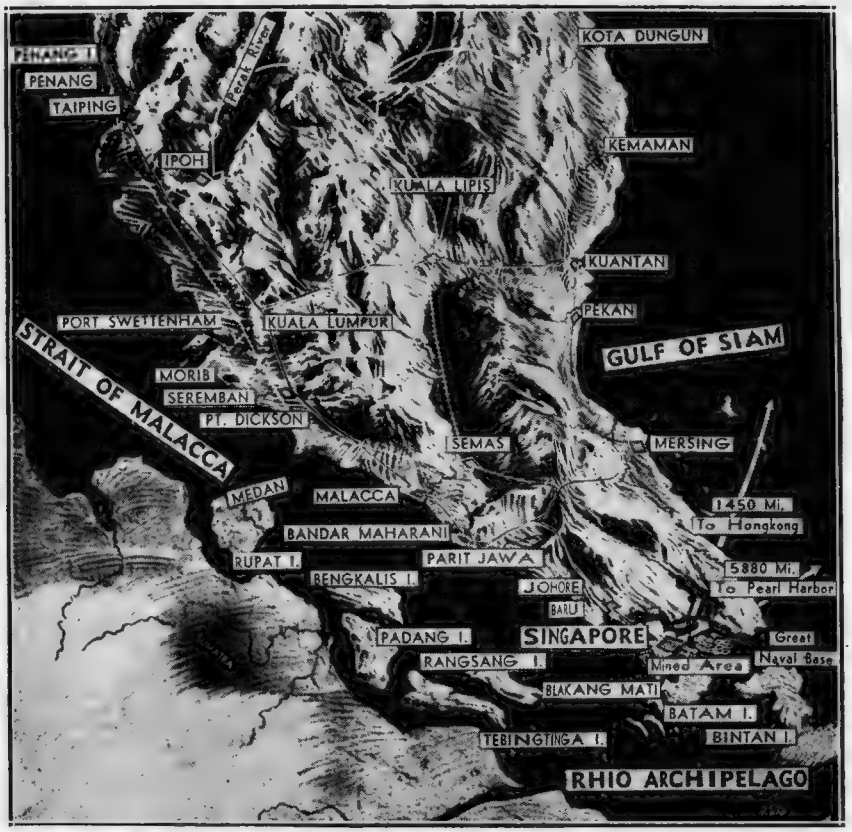
THE ROAD TO SINGAPORE

Sweltering, Mountainous Malaya Half Won by Japs



200 Miles Away

The defense of Singapore, Britain's Far East Gibraltar, centered today on Kuala Lumpur, crude rubber capital of the world, as it was reported that a spearhead of Jap tanks had penetrated the western Malayan defenses north of that city and that British forces had fallen back. Thus, the threat to Singapore has been advanced half the distance from the northern Malaya border to the British stronghold.

Operatic Study

Albert Gay and Frances Greer rehearse their roles of Golaud and Melisande in the dramatic quarrel scene from "Pelleas and Melisande" as given by the Philadelphia Opera Co., now playing in Boston. During the actual performance, Golaud drags Melisande about the stage by the golden hair, but in rehearsal table napkins are substituted for wig.

OUR DAILY CITATION: To the daring RAF pilots who yesterday destroyed military objectives at Bangkok, capital of Japanese-occupied Thailand, in the first Allied counter-blow in the contest to take and hold the storied road to Mandalay. Democracies can drop bombs—bigger and more destructive ones. The Japs may not have known that. But they will from now on.

EVERY American wants to do his patriotic bit during this period of war emergency.

One of the easiest and simplest ways for the average person to help is to save waste paper—old newspapers, last month's magazines, wrapping tissue, grocers' delivery bags, candy boxes, etc.

If enough people make this a daily practice, an adequate supply of paper will be assured, and our hard-pressed industries will be spared the obligation of having to labor under another and unnecessary handicap.

The money which the average housewife receives for the waste paper which she would ordinarily burn will probably be more than sufficient to pay for several pairs of stockings or at least one good hat.

Or, better still, she can invest it in defense savings stamps.

ALL OVER THE COUNTRY there is an emphatic and rapidly growing conviction in the public mind that the principle of compulsory arbitration should be extended into the field of labor disputes.

By the same token there is a rising swell of irritation and indignation against the tendency to consider labor controversies as outside all law but that of superior strength.

Compulsory arbitration, long advocated by the Hearst newspapers, is nothing new in American political philosophy nor in American political methods.

Court calendars everywhere are crowded with cases in which individuals at loggerheads are forced to accept the mediation of a superior and impartial power.

Any conflict that is not amenable to the settlement of law or equity becomes simply a war, a collision of forces that are outside the law and which can only be resolved by the brute strength that transforms might into right.

There is no corporate body, whether of workers or employers, no matter how powerful, numerous or rich, that is entitled to carry on such a war to the harm and peril of the larger body of which it is only a part.

The greater organism—American society—must step in and compel the quarreling members to submit their cases and abide by the decision.

If this applies to individuals, whose controversies may only affect them personally, it is a thousand fold more necessary and important to compel large groups to accept arbitration, for their differences may easily ruin the health and life of the nation itself.

Stubbornly to refuse arbitration, arrogantly to depend on individual advantage of position or weight, wilfully to impose verdicts that are beyond all prudence or justice, is merely to create a super-government which no man can trust and all men will fear and detest.

This apprehension and loathing are already palpable in the public mind in connection with the disputes that are playing havoc, not only with the defense program but with the wider issue of American internal harmony.

The net result of these controversies, so far, has not been one of adjusting wages, hours or conditions.

It has been to arouse mistrust and anger, to strengthen a popular conviction that the limbs of industry and labor, in their avidity for power and profits, care nothing for the heart and mind of America.

If only to erase this thought, the application of compulsory arbitration would be an invaluable thing.

The American people want law and order and justice in labor matters.

They will demand it, and get it.

"SERVE WITH SILENCE" is a slogan stressed by the Navy in the important Pacific Coast area.

The purpose is to discourage gossip about defense and war activities.

Among the easily remembered catch phrases the Navy is circulating are:

"A slip of the lip may sink a ship."
"That friendly chap may tell a Jap."
"Can you keep a secret? O. K., keep it!"

We think a campaign of this kind would be equally wise and useful here on the Atlantic Coast.

It would make the work of the spy and fifth columnist harder, and that is what every real American wants to do.

TAKE astrological character analysis. The star gazer says Pisces women always have a desire to move furniture. Ninety per cent of Pisces females will admit this is true. Do you know why? It's because 90 per cent of all women have a desire to move furniture. My girl friend is a Sagittarian and she is an enthusiastic furniture mover. In fact, she was moving it in the living room last night. That is, she was ordering the moving and I was doing the labor. I moved a lot of chairs and a table and a bookcase. But when I saw her looking at the piano I whipped out my watch and said: "I almost forgot that appointment I had with the managing editor. I have to go to the office." I'm no fool. I think furniture firms should have movers on their staff who could be hired for so much an hour to do the work when women decide they want to rearrange their furniture.

GOOD NEWS: Our policy in these depressing times is to spare no effort to dig up good news. This morning we have some. It is no longer necessary for barbers to stand up while they work. A two-seater barber chair has been invented—a seat for the barber and one for the client. The barber's seat is movable, enabling the tonsorialist to shift his approach. When the two-seater chair comes into operation, it will not only be fine for barbers but also for barbers' wives. I mean in the future, when a barber's wife says: "How's about stepping out for a little dancing tonight, Sugar?" the barber will no longer be able to snap: "What, go dancing, and me having been on my feet all day."

PLEASE NOTE: Hitler's new headquarters on the Russian front are 150 miles from the nearest fighting . . . Dr. Albert Einstein always tips the barber $1 after getting a haircut. The poorest tippers of high salaried people are major league baseball players. Their average tip is a dime . . . Character analysts claim blue-eyed women are psychic and very hard to deceive. Brown-eyed girls make the best mothers and the most loving wives. If a girl has large eyes she loves luxury and is not happy without it. A small-eyed woman is inclined to be morose and selfish.

ASIDES: Giving defense stamps as tips, which some people are doing, is an excellent idea . . . Some cocktail bars have signs up: "Even in this friendly tavern there may be enemy ears. Stop loose talk and rumors" . . . A popular dance in London is called "The Bomber Parade." As the dancers go through the steps of this they sing a chorus which concludes:

We're not afraid
We keep on dancing
The bomber parade.

TAXES: Note a reference to a "foreign-born mechanic" who is now making $100 a week and is reported to have stated: "Taxes! I will pay no taxes. I spend my money now. If I haven't got it, how can the government get it from me?" You and I intend to pay our taxes no matter how painful. So let us get ready for a terrific squawk if any tax dodgers get away with it. Tax dodging right now is as bad as draft dodging. There are ways of taking

NORMA SHEARER, LOVELY FILM STAR
She's Not the Only Brilliant Shearer, Durling Says

can of draft dodgers; let the same system be used for tax dodgers.

DELIGHTS: Seems the film fin employing Judy Garland thought she was too young to be married. So they are considering substituting Shirley Temple for her as a co-star with Mickey Rooney . . . The Japs are complaining of the 130 degree temperature here in Malaya and the Nazis are whimpering about the 60 degree below zero cold in Russia. Maybe the Axis would like to postpone the war until there are air-conditioned battlefields . . . Norma Shearer is not the only brilliant female Shearer. There is also 18-year-old stenographer Lotta Shearer of Princeton, N. J., who accurately took down a speech made by Dr. Einstein on "Solutions of Finite Mass of the Gravitational Equations." Said Lotta: "It was easy because Dr. Einstein speaks distinctly." I guess most stenographers will know what the young woman had in mind when she said that.

A SECRETARY who really has everything under control and her wits about her is one who during the first week of January, 1942, never writes the date down as 1941 . . . Innumerable female celebrities state when they feel blue they go out and buy a red hat. And that chases the blues away. A man in Chicago made a fortune selling nothing but blue serge suits. I wonder if some women couldn't do all right with a shop selling nothing but red hats . . . Haven't completed my schedule of Bitter Campaigns for 1942 and am open to suggestions. Several of our crusades will be continued. Bitter Campaign No. 432 is now in its seventh year. This is the battle for a thicker slice of ham in ham sandwiches. However, in the interests of defense, we may have to suspend this campaign for the duration. Our Bitter Campaign No. 1167 enters its fourth year. This is directed against people who call others from houses by blowing auto horns. Bitter Campaign No. 2256 enters its second year, but so far has made practically no progress. This is directed against those who can't think of anything to say when they meet you at a race track except: "How are you doin'?"

Broadway's Voice

SOPHIE TUCKER SEES VICTORY

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—Well, we have had a month of war now—we of Broadway along with the rest of the nation; and here in the entertainment zone the reaction has settled and is probably best described by what Sophie Tucker said three days after Dec. 7. Standing on the sidewalk outside of Sardi's in the center of a group of war-worried and jittery actors—big Sophie waved her purse up at the theater marquees along the street and said:

"They won't come down. The lights will stay lit, I know—I was through the last war. We came through that all right. We'll come through this."

When Sophie said "we came through," she meant "we won." When she told them, "We'll come through this," she meant, "we'll win again."

And that is the way Broadway feels after a month of war. We'll win again.

The lights will stay lit.

UNA MERKEL

CHECKING THE PULSE of Broadway today, you find it strong but irregular in beat. There is a certain amount of box-office confusion, but no sign of panic. Last week a half-dozen legitimate shows closed down and several more are due to follow suit—but the movie houses are packing them in. There are lines block-long waiting to get into the Strand and Music Hall, and even "The Shanghai Gesture," an almost hysterically bad picture, is proving to be manna at the box-office.

THE ITALIAN KITCHEN on 42d st. changes its name to the Victory, and Greenwich Village takes down a Mon Paris sign, replacing it with the V Club. The Avenue Restaurant waiter asks you if you'll accept your change in defense savings stamps, and you do. Sukiyaki as extinct, as you hope the Japs soon will be.

Song writers flood the publishers with new war tunes and the old ones come back. Familiar faces disappear, then reappear in khaki or Navy blue. The American Theater Wing sponsors first aid training for actors and actresses, and patriotic programs star on the air lanes. Theatrical celebrities patrol as air raid wardens in the hours after midnight. And—great symbol always of war time energy—girls are knitting, knitting, knitting.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS dot the parks, and there are air raid sirens in Times Square. Signs urging you to buy defense savings bonds and stamps are stuck everywhere—backstage in the chorines' dressing rooms, in the foyers of the night clubs, in the subways.

Pin-ball machines assume military themes, and the dress advertisements advise ladies what to wear in the company of uniformed men. Military styles join the famous wardrobes of Mrs. Orson Munn, Mrs. Byron Foy, Hildegarde and Gladys Swarthout . . . Gents in mufti wear patriotic emblems in their lapels . . . The Rainbow Room menus instruct patrons, in the event of an air raid, to "remain seated, or continue dancing" . . . Cocktail bars feature such items as the Manliadila, the Victory Cocktail, or the Torpedo Cooler ("three drinks and you're sunk they warn"). Blackout lamps go on sale for $2.95.

MILITARY NUMBERS invade the floor shows of Leon and Eddie's, Versailles, Gaucho, and the Hurricane. Old war songs are sung and old recruiting posters are hung at Bill's Gay Nineties. Carmen Cavallaro composes a song called "Anything for You, Uncle Sam," and the Andrews Sisters give out with, "You're a Sap, Mr. Jap!"

Una Merkel carries a tiny flashlight in her pocketbook and Chick Yorke, of the "High Kickers" cast, is distributing diamond-shaped buttons, imbedded with a pearl and bearing the legend: "Remember Pearl Harbor." A new lipstick is called "Victory Red." And even those night club habitues generally thought to be anemic are volunteering blood donations to the Red Cross.

INTERIOR DECORATION adopts a new red-white-and-blue effect, and the Cotillion Room becomes the most timely looking of the salons. The Star Spangled Banner is heard more than "Chattanooga Choo Choo," and new games motivated by war plots, are released.

"The New York Is a Friendly Town" Committee is doing all it can to help our fighting men enjoy their furloughs. Night clubs and restaurants offer them meals on the house, the debbies dance with them, and the cinema sanctuaries give special rates to boys in uniform. Patriotic night-lifers are trying hard to like American champagne, and Paula Laurence makes them laugh by wearing a pint-sized battleship for a hat.

BOSTON after DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

IN THREE QUICK RIFFLES of a new deck of cards, Zingone, the great "card mechanic" at the Rio Casino, can memorize the position of every one of the 52 pasteboards . . . He is the slicker you may have seen in Metro's educational, and entertaining, short pictures which exposed the tricks of the card sharpers . . . Zingone admits that his career began—after years of practice—as a professional dealer for a West Coast gambling house . . . His reformation set in quickly, and he's been earning a more modest living as an entertainer . . . A private session with Zingone and you are ready to believe in the sagacity of those Pullman car card-writers who beg travelers not to play cards with strangers . . . He deals "seconds," and "bottoms," so expertly that it is impossible to follow the movement of his hands.

DEFINING "THE FIFTH FREEDOM" as "the freedom of those who provide the fundamental necessity of diversion for an entire nation . . . in all its entertainment forms," the show-business bible, Variety, demands that the radio, theater and screen "exert a positive, not a passive attitude" throughout the war.

"ONE-A-DAY CLUBS" are springing up all over the country . . . The inspiration came from the statistics division of the department of labor, here in Boston . . . Members of the original club pledged themselves to the purchase of, at least one defense stamp a day . . . And that's the main idea of the others . . . Secondmate Jack Watson of Tom Horgan's yacht, Nomad, received his commission yesterday as a naval lieutenant, senior grade . . . Six beautiful girls will be engaged by the Fox and Hounds' Rhumba Casino to lure patronage to the cozy precincts where Charlie Wolk's smooth orchestra is scoring a real hit . . . If a unit of real beauties can be induced to leave New York, Eddie Davis and Walter Finn will transport it intact to Boston . . . Otherwise, Buster Keim will be commissioned to conduct a beauty search among the New York model studios and to stage a show from what he finds . . . A chorus is something new for the Fox and Hounds, but the girls will be put to work within a fortnight, if possible.

IT ISN'T VERY OFTEN that the agile-minded Joe Frisco is topped by an ad-lib humorist, but the irrepressible duo of Jack White and Frankie Hyers, set Joe down for the count recently . . . Frisco makes White's Club 18 his hang-out when he's in New York . . . The night after his very successful opening at Loew's State, Frisco was celebrating at a ringside table . . . The show was going on, but interruptions are in order at the Club 18 (W. 52nd Street) . . . The camera-girl was walking by his table when Frisco demanded loudly: "H-h-here little g-g-girl t-t-take a p-p-picture of m-me s-s-stuttering, I wanna s-s-show my f-f-folks I'm working!" . . . Hyers and White pounced on Frisco verbally at once. "Take a picture of him eating," they said, "that'll be better proof."

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Blonde Dorothy Littlejohn proved to be as lovely away from the footlights as she is behind them . . . She was the hit of the "My Sister Eileen" guest night at the Cocoanut Grove . . . Alexander Smallens, conductor of "Porgy and Bess," has an autograph from George Gershwin which tells its own tragic story . . . It was inscribed: "To the conductor of my opera(s)." . . . Gershwin's untimely death, of course, stopped his career with only "Porgy and Bess" carrying his name as composer of an opera . . . But the "s" in parentheses marked the immortal Gershwin's determination to compose others . . . And it may have indicated a foreboding that he would not finish a successor to his first . . . Gypsy Rose Lee has wired this department to reserve a seat for her at Ann Corio's opening in "White Cargo" . . . The same spirit of good-will does not prevail unanimously, however, in the ranks of the reigning ladies de strip . . . On the star dressing-room at the Old Howard—Ann's old abode—hangs a sign: "Annie doesn't live here any more!"

COVETED ROLE FOR VIRGINIA BRUCE

By Louella O. Parsons

Virginia Bruce

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 9—Thirty three years ago, when H. G. Wells was not as famous as he is today, he wrote "The History of Mr. Polly." The hero is inoffensive, awkward, shabby and all but overcome by the strife of family and life—but so simple and jolly you love him. Well, RKO has bought it for Charles Laughton, whose English accent will fit into the character, even though it is a far cry from "Captain Bligh." In other words, Charlie will do another comedy role for RKO as soon as he finishes "The Tuttles of Tahiti," the story of the shiftless South Sea family who are too lazy to work—even to fish. Comedy is the thing these days, and I'll say for Charlie he is as good a comedian as he is a sinister, cruel Captain Bligh.

PEGGY DIGGINS

IF UNIVERSAL turns out as solid a hit with Damon Runyon's "Butch Minds the Baby" as they did with his "Tight Shoes," they won't catch the critics napping this time. I thought "Butch Minds the Baby" was one of the funniest stories I ever read in magazine form. It's about a henpecked gangster (Broderick Crawford) left home to mind the baby. When the gang sends him out to blow a safe he has to take the baby along — and the complications are hilarious. Just learned today that Virginia Bruce gets the top femme spot in this picture, and Virginia should be in the nursery mood because this is her first picture since she and J. Walter Ruben welcomed their son and heir. Al Rogell will direct.

WHEN NORMA Shearer finishes "Her Cardboard Lover", currently called "Love Me Not", her contract ends with M-G-M. Norma has been there for many years, ever since she arrived in Hollywood. She met and married the late Irving Thalberg at that studio and made many of the most important movies under his successful regime. She is undecided on her plans and it's possible she may free lance. She was offered the lead in "The Gay Sisters" at Warners and liked the part, but she couldn't make it and fulfill her obligation to her own studio. I wouldn't be surprised if she went to Warners, although nothing is settled. Her "Divorcee" was one of the first sophisticated comedies, and in "We Were Dancing" she again turns from somber plays to more gayety.

SNAPSHOTS of Hollywood collected at random: Rita Hayworth has been presented with a cigarette case from an unknown admirer—value $1000; Taylor Holmes, back in Hollywood after five years, remains here for movies; Natalie Draper and Jay Gould, socially prominent New Yorker, night-clubbing; Sidney Miller is writing a biography of the last ten years of Mickey Rooney's life called "Slip 'Em a Mickey." (Cute title?) Joe Pasternak gave his bride a squarecut diamond ring. They were dancing at Ciro's. Every important producer in town was there to eat a special dinner created by a chef who certainly knows his art. The L. B. Mayers brought a family party consisting of the David Selznicks, the William Goetzes, Eddie Mannix, Merle Oberon, Alexander Korda and Benny Thau. In the same Goldwyn party were Mrs. Mervyn Leroy, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Milestone and others. In the Charles Feldman party were the Jack Warners, the William Randolph Hearst Jrs., Sylvia Fairbanks, Harry Brand and others; Sally Eilers, Harry Joe Brown, Gracie Allen, George Burns, the Al Halls were in another group. Peggy Diggins, one of the prettiest girls in the room, was with the Mark Hellingers. Talked to Gladys Hellinger and she tells me the new adopted baby is two months old and that the little girl, seven months, has a tooth.

Opera 'Faust' In English Wins Acclaim

By JOYCE DANA

The Philadelphians, with exuberance, artistry, sincerity and talent, further endeared themselves to Bostonians at the Opera House with their English version of Gounod's "Faust."

Opera in English, heretofore, has suffered from the limitations of a language not so singable, with stilted and stuffy translations, with many inadequacies that dyed-in-the-wool opera lovers found it impossible to overlook.

But if "Figaro" lent itself admirably to the zest and gusto of the American idiom, even to a judicious interpolation of slang, "Faust" is not cut from the same pattern. To the credit of this new Philadelphia Opera Company, which has injected vitamins into the classics, Robert Simon's translation retains all the beauty and tragedy of the stirring Faust legend as it was in the days of the de Reszkes, the Melbas and the Sembrichs.

It was admirably sung, too, and together with Sylvan Levin's spirited and tasteful direction, it provided as delightful a musical evening as one would wish. The young and fresh voices, perhaps not as opulent as they one day will be, gained in assurance and richness, so that the superb trio of the final act, with lovely Marguerite languishing in her prison cell, a repentant Faust to assure her in impassioned tones of his undying love, and the arch-fiend Mephisto to claim her soul, is vocally and histrionically grand opera at its very finest.

Dorothy Sarnoff's Marguerite, appealing to look at in her girlish charm, disclosed a voice that is beautifully rounded and full and true. Her brilliant "Jewel Song" was, of course, most cordially received but she was at her peak in last act duet with Faust and her prayer to the angels.

William Hess's sturdy tenor as Faust more than measured up to the exacting demands of the score, and James Pease disclosed a fine bass-baritone as Mephisto. Splendid, too were Howard Vanderburg in the rewarding Valentine role, John Toms as the young lad Siebel, Gabrielle Hunt, to inject the small touch of humor in the legend, and Joseph Luts as Wagner.

And do these young Philadelphians act! There's no posturing to take center stage, or reach that note. The play's the thing, along with the music. The choral work was admirable, and the simple set, with its center Gothic arch, most effective.

Tonight's opera will be Debussy's "Pelleas and Melisande, with Frances Greer and David Brook in the central roles and Mr. Levin conducting.

Harry Langdon, a favorite comedian of silent pictures, is the star of "Double Trouble," screen farce opening tomorrow at the Bijou Theater. Teamed with him is Charles Rogers, popular English vaudevillian. The co-feature, "Reg'lar Fellers," is based on Gene Byrnes' cartoon strip and co-stars the stuttering Roscoe Ates and Sarah Padden

'REMEMBER THE DAY' AT METROPOLITAN NOSTALGIC STORY OF SCHOOL DAYS

Colbert Plays Teacher's Role

"REMEMBER THE DAY," 20th Century-Fox production starring Claudette Colbert with John Payne, Douglas Croft, Ann Todd, John Sheppard and Frieda Inescort. Based on the play by Philo Higley and Philip Dunning. Directed by Henry King. At the Met.

By PEGGY DOYLE

After seeing the Broadway play, "Remember the Day," Rube Goldberg said it gave him such a lump in his throat his friends thought he was wearing two necktie.

The film version, conjuring up bittersweet memories of pigtail days and the first World War as it currently unreels on the Metropolitan screen, is another two-necktie affair. Or, rather, it's a two-necktie two-handkerchief affair, boys and girls, a weeper-plus that doesn't care whose tear-ducts it unleashes.

It helps if you're pushing middle-age. "Remember the Day" is concerned with the aging, white-haired Claudette Colbert, who, as the picture opens, gets in the way of a disgruntled newspaper photographer's "shot" of a Presidential nominee of 1940. When Miss Colbert knew him he was a rebellious lad who disliked school and her, his teacher, until he discovered she loved boats and the sea, too.

Drifting back over the years, the camera focusses on the classroom presided over by the charming, young woman who has been summoned to fill in a vacancy in the middle of the term. It is a difficult adjustment and the boy who was to become the President of the United States doesn't make it any easier.

But the understanding teacher, divining his interest in ships and ship-building, tells him things he never knew about them. From her the sensitive, repressed boy gets sympathy and encouragement that straighten him out and kindle ambition.

She is also the manual training teacher's ideal, and when the boy sees them in each other's arms one day he is briefly disillusioned because he didn't think she'd "go for that mush stuff." Maybe Rube

CLAUDETTE COLBERT

Goldberg remembers the day he had a beautiful, young teacher who was his first ideal girl, as must many successful men who used to be gawky, self-conscious, misunderstood boys until some wise, sympathetic grade-teacher divined their need and steered them towards achievement.

Claudette Colbert, actually looking her half-century as she waits in the Washington Hotel lobby to glimpse one of her "boys" who has made good, is a credit to her own as well as the teaching profession as Miss Trinell. As a fellow-teacher who marries her and then goes off to war, never to return, John Payne is gallant and likeable. Douglas Croft, as the boy who grew up to be President, is natural and boyish and utterly charming. John Sheppard, even with his greying temples, looks fairly young to be the nation's Chief Executive, but he carries this great honor with dignity and restraint. Ann Todd's little girl, Katie, who eventually marries her first "crush," is delightful.

The co-feature, "The Perfect Snob," features Charles Ruggles, Charlotte Greenwood and Lynn Bari.

TWIN BILL AT UPTOWN

"Appointment for Love," co-starring Charles Boyer and Margaret Sullavan, is the Uptown's new screen attraction. On the same bill is "Swamp Water," a drama of the Georgia swamps, with Walter Brennan, Walter Huston and Anne Gwynne.

Midnight Show At Old Howard

Most toothsome of the "Sugar Babies," burlesque revue that is to be the highlight of tonight's midnight show at the Old Howard, are Jean Mode and Marnee. They are assisted by a large cast, including Max Fuhrman, Irving Selig, Gay Knight, June March, Julie San and Seal and many others.

Five Headline Acts Sunday at Globe

The Globe's 1 to-11 p. m. Sunday vaudeville program will feature five headline acts including the famed Hermine's Midgets, a troupe of the world's smallest actors presenting trapeze acts, instrumental band selections, juggling and clowning stunts and "Tiny Tease" herself Kelly and Hayes, singing comics, the Three Cards, and Bill Elliot, "the singing cop."

U. S. AIRMEN BAG 7 PLANES IN THAILAND

RANGOON, Burma, Jan. 9 (AP) — A small squadron of the American volunteer group roared across the jungle wastelands of Thailand yesterday and bombed Meshod airdrome, near Bangkok, destroying at least seven grounded Japanese bombers and probably wrecked an eighth.

Col. Cheunault

This was latest reported stroke of an American flying force under the command of a wiry Louisianan, Col. Claire L. Chennault, who at 51 left a life of retirement to defend the Burma road even before Japan launched her great December offensive in the Pacific and Far East.

The assault apeared to have cost the American volunteer group one plane, for it was missing somewhere between the AVG's operating base and the bomb-torn airport of Meshod.

A combined communique of the British army and air command said:

"AVG aircraft raided Meshod Thursday. 'They destroyed seven enemy light bombers on the ground and probably eight. One AVG aircraft is missing as a result of this raid."

(The German radio, as heard in London, said today that strong Japanese squadrons had struck back with severe raids on Burma, attacking mainly Rangoon, Tavoy and Moulmein.

(The All-India radio said Rangoon had a one-hour alert early Friday morning, with bombs dropped in an area north of the city, while anti-aircraft guns banged at the raiders.

(The Indian broadcast added that "it was made known today in New Delhi that some air raid casualties in Rangoon are being evacuated to India. Arrangements for their reception in this country have been taken in hand." The All-India report was recorded in New York by CBS.)

Doors Must Open Outward

Owners of buildings where large numbers of persons gather for any purpose were in a flurry today over a new wartime regulation announced by Building Commr. James H. Mooney.

The doors in such buildings must open outward, according to the regulation, which has been approved by Mayor Tobin's civilian defense committee as a public safety measure. The buildings effected include churches, schools, theaters, auditoriums, night clubs.

BUNKER HILL COURAGE IN WAKE BATTLE COSTS JAPS 7 WARSHIPS

ports received up to noon (EST) yesterday:

"Far East: The commanding officer of a United States submarine of the Asiatic fleet has reported the sinking of an enemy transport. In addition this vessel succeeded in sinking three enemy cargo vessels, each estimated to be 10,000 tons displacement.

"Central Pacific: The defense of Wake Island by United States Marines has been cited by the President of the United States as follows:

White House, Washington, Jan. 5.

"'Citation by the President of the United States of the Wake detachment of the first defense battalion, U. S. Marine Corps, under the command of James P. Devereux, United States Marine, and Marine Fighting Squadron 211 of Marine Aircraft Group 21, under command of Paul Putnam, U. S. Marines.

"'The courageous conduct of the officers and the men of these units, who defended Wake Island against an overwhelming superiority of enemy air, sea, and land attacks from Dec. 8 to 22, 1941, has been noted with admiration by their fellow countrymen and the civilized world, and will not be forgotten so long as gallantry and heroism are respected and honored. These units are commended for their devotion to duty and splendid conduct at their battle stations under most adverse conditions. With limited defensive means against attacks in great force, they manned their shore installations and flew their aircraft so well that five enemy warships were either sunk or severly damaged, many hostile planes shot down, and unknown number of land troops destroyed.'

(Editor's Note—The President's reference to five enemy warships was written before later information brought the total to seven.)

"Wake: An increase of two Japanese warships—a destroyer and gunboat—over the originally reported cruiser, submarine and three destroyers that the Japs lost in the attack on Wake Island, was indicated into reports to Marine Corps headquarters, received from the Pacific area.

SENT BY PLANE

"These reports were sent from Wake Island by a patrol plane. One written on Dec. 20, is from Maj. Paul A. Putnam, commanding aviation on Wake.

"The other is a day-by-day account of Marine aviation's participation in the battle of Wake Island up to Dec. 20 by Maj. W. Bayler.

"Maj. Bayler's report has but little reference to the Marines on the isle beside the aviation group, but one brief note—'Japs closed into 4700 yards before five and three-inch guns opened at point blank range'—indicates a cool courage on the part of Devereux's men that ranks with the classic 'whites of their eyes' line of Bunker Hill, in the opinion of ranking officers at Marine Corps headquarters.

"Added to the two Japanese destroyers which were lost in the final phase of the battle of Dec. 22, the new information received brings Japanese losses in taking the island of Wake up to a total of seven warships, one cruiser, four destroyers, one submarine, and one gunboat.

12 PLANES ARRIVE

"Synopsis of events (Wake Local Times) Dec. 8 to 20.

"Dec. 8, 7 a. m. Received word bombing Oahu. General quarter station; 11:58 a. m., 24 Jap bombers on a northern course hit airdrome in close column of division 'V's' from three thousand feet. One hundred pounds fragmentation bombs and simultaneous strafing. Casualties 25 dead, seven wounded, seven airplanes burned, destroyed.

"Dec. 9, 11:45 a. m., Japs bombed hospital, camp No. 2. Killed several patients. Three dead. Got Jap plane.

"Dec. 10, 10:45 a. m., 27 Jap bombers. No casualties.

"Dec. 11, 5 a. m., landing attempt by 12 Jap ships, including light cruisers, destroyers, gunboats, two troop or supply ships. Jap casualties: One light cruiser, two destroyers, one gunboat, two bombers.

"Note: That Japs closed into 4700 yards before five and three inch guns opened up at point blank range.

Dec. 12, 27 Jap planes bombed Peale and Wake from 22,000 feet. No casualties.

"Dec. 13, all quiet.

"Dec. 14, 32 Jap planes hit airdrome. Two killed, one plane downed. (Own destroyed by bombs).

"Dec. 15, 11 a. m., dawn raid by three four-engined seaplanes. 27 Jap bombers. Shot down two Japs.

41 BOMBERS HIT

"Dec. 16, 5:45 p. m., 41 Jap bombers hit camp two and airdrome. Jap four motor plane raid. One Jap shot down.

"Dec. 17, 32 Jap bombers at 1317 hit camp one, Peale Island. Diesel oil supply, mess hall and pumps of evaporators, camp one.

"Dec. 18, 11:40 a. m., one Jap high REC. plane (two engined).

"Dec. 19, 10:30 a. m., Jap bombers hit airport and camp.

"Dec. 20, all quiet—first day of bad weather.

"Total casualties: 28 dead, 6 wounded, as of Dec. 20 from V. M. F.—211.

"Notes: (1) Jap bombers of Dornier type, two-engined, twin tail, 160 knots. (2) Attack formations always in form of line of division V's in close formation. Excellent air discipline. (3) Nine sure Jap bombers shot down; three more possibly. One four-engine P-boat. One CL, two DD, one gunboat.

"Maj. Putnam's report of operations to his commanding officer in Pearl Harbor goes into more detail on the efforts of the tiny aviation complement to keep the planes that were left after the first attack in the air against each new attack.

"Of the original aviation force of 12 officers and 49 enlisted men, 19 enlisted men and 8 officers were still on duty Dec. 20. Of these, 4 enlisted men and 2 officers were wounded but still on duty. One officer and 6 enlisted men were in the hospital and "doing nicely." The remainder, 3 officers and 24 men, were dead.

ATTACK AGAINST ODDS

"Discussing the surface attack of Dec. 11, Putnam reported, 'four airplanes (Marine planes) made a total of 16 attacks, operating in a greatly overloaded condition and performing splendidly. We claim the sinking of one ship and serious damage to another.'

"Lauding the work of the ground crews at Wake, Maj. Putnam wrote, 'since that time (the first raid) parts and assemblies have been traded back and forth so that no airplane can be identified. Engines have been traded from plane to plane, have been junked, stripped, rebuilt, and all but created.'

"The tone of the entire report indicates no particular anxiety on the part of the air group at Wake. They were there under orders with a job to do."

That "special" entree which the family is not to recognize as a blend of left-over luncheon and dinner vegetables and meat is sure to be more cleverly camouflaged by the addition of ripe olives, chopped or sliced as we find them in small cans, or merely separated from the pit of the whole fruit in wedges.

You won't find definite measurements necessary. The rule is merely to use sufficient to insure character.

Young Girl Is Advised To Find Man Own Age

By Beatrice Fairfax

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I AM AN 18-YEAR-OLD school girl, in my last year of high school. I belong to many social organizations and am popular in spite of the fact that I don't drink, smoke or pet. About six months ago I met a young man at one of our dances, and have been going out with him occasionally. In the past month he has become rather serious, and without my knowledge asked my mother if she would allow me to go "steady" with him. He told her he was 35 years of age, which is almost twice my age.

I don't know whether I love him or not; in fact, I don't think I know the meaning of the word "love." But I respect him very much, and since I met him he has changed for the better in a good many ways. Do you think I'm too young to marry him?

UNCERTAIN.

As you're only 18 and still in school, it seems to me you're pretty young to marry a man almost double your age. Youth is so precious and fleeting that it is bad for a girl to assume the responsibilities of marriage without first enjoying a little of her youth.

My advice to you is to know young people of your own age first, and not to rush into matrimony with a man so much older.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

My boy friend is 19 years old and I am 17 and we think a good deal of each other. Do you think it wrong if we walk arm-in-arm in public. Some tell me I shouldn't do it, but I don't see any harm in it.

T. R.

There is no harm in taking a man's arm—but there is a question of what is and what is not done. In these days of independent womanhood, when girls pride themselves on being athletic, it's regarded as just a wee bit old-fashioned to take a man's arm during the day.

In the evening you can—if you're determined to take his arm—but that he can see the way better than you can. Taking a man's arm on all occasions harks back to the days when it was rather the thing for a girl to be more or less of an invalid. That type is out of date today.

COLORFUL FOODS FOR RELISH TRAY

Make your relish tray for buffet or dinner service reflect the colorful attitude of modern dining rooms. Select a group of contrasting colorful foods—the extreme value of celery or small pickled beets against the rich, glossy black of ripe olives, crisp yellow sticks of carrot, green-edged wedges of avocado, stuffed red pimientos, tart pickles or tomato sections.

Beauty

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—And your skin may have the same look of flawlessness that Rosalind Russell's boasts beneath that tricky swirled pompadour . . . if you go for expert help on clearing up noticeable blemishes via the new salon method described today by Arline Gould.

NEW FACIAL TREATMENT REMOVES SKIN BLEMISHES

By ARLINE GOULD

YOU'VE PROBABLY noticed that while one girl might be a miniature Schiaparelli in creating amazingly chic little numbers out of a hank of wool and a bunch of sequins . . . another couldn't even knit a washcloth successfully . . . and so it goes that some girls can do all their own beauty chores perfectly, and others get nowhere no matter how hard they try!

This is apt to be all too true in the matter of blackheads and whiteheads, or any of the skin troubles that come from clogged pores. If you've done your level best, and still your skin looks as though it might belong to a character out of Tobacco Road . . . go for help to a Boston salon which features what it calls a "new miracle facial treatment."

This is unusual because in many cases a single treatment has so removed blackheads and firmed enlarged pores that no further help is necessary. If skin troubles are of long duration and quite severe, though still not a problem for a physician, then it's likely more than one treatment will be required.

It's a most relaxing . . . restful . . . soothing treatment. First, several hot towels are placed on the face to start the pores functioning the way they normally should, but all too often DON'T when they're afflicted with blackheads and enlarged pores.

Then specially prepared creams are lavished on the skin, and a series of gentle massages to tighten lax face muscles trundle you off into a deeply comfortable mood. Heavenly soothing and cool eye pads are placed over the eyes for 15 minutes . . . and the pack of special formula creams is removed with astringent.

Now, the unique effect of a special type of vacuum machine is applied to the blemishes . . . but so gently that you're hardly aware of the vacuum forcing the pores to give up excess oily and waste matter which creates blackheads. Naturally, when they are free of this foreign matter they can contract easily.

For information on this treatment, phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NEWS FOR MODERN WOMEN

• FOOD •

By Martha Lee

PARTY FOOD to most of us means something rich and sweet, "all sugared and gooed up fit to kill," as a bachelor friend of the family describes it. This same bachelor knows whereof he speaks, for he is in demand at parties and is faced and "baffled" (his own word) by much party food.

Refreshments served at his own smart little supper parties are very different. His platform on the subject is very simple, his adherence to it unswerving. "No sweets," says he. He insists that all food must be crisp, crunchy, meaty or highly flavored. There's never a whipped cream or sweet concoction to be seen.

Rather you will find thick soup ladled smoking hot from an enormous high riding tureen, cold whole baked hams, pots of pork and beans, fresh crusty rye bread, chilled salad greens, crunchy celery hearts, sardines, wonderful cheeses, pickles, polished red apples, juicy pears—all that sort of thing. And his guests love it—perhaps because such honest, gusty, relished foods are met but seldom at parties.

For instance, this spicy hot tomato juice punch provides a jolly start to such a sweetless supper.

HOT MULLED TOMATO JUICE WITH LEMON SLICE GARNISH

5 cups tomato juice
6 tbsp. medium brown sugar
6 whole cloves
2 sticks cinnamon, about 3 inches long
4 slices lemon

Combine all ingredients, bring to a slow boil and simmer for five minutes. Strain. Serve hot from a large bowl with thin slices of lemon and orange floating on top. Makes 1¼ quarts hot mulled tomato juice.

This salad is another suggestion. It consists of crisp vegetables imprisoned in a chicken flavored mousse. Simple to make, delightful to eat.

SUPPER PARTY SALAD MOUSSE

2 cans condensed chicken soup
2 eggs, separated
1 tbsp. gelatin, softened in ¼ cup water
1½ cups cooked carrots, diced
½ cup diced celery or cucumber
1 cup cooked green peas
⅔ cup salad dressing or mayonnaise

Heat the soup, add egg yolks gradually and cook until slightly thickened. Dissolve softened gelatin in hot soup mixture. Chill until it begins to stiffen, then fold in carrots, green peas, celery or cucumber, beaten egg whites and mayonnaise. Pour into a mold and chill until firm. Remove from mold and serve on salad greens—lettuce, watercress or chickory or garnished with celery hearts and stuffed olives. Makes 8 servings.

Fresh Vegetables in chicken flavored mousse.

BOSTON BAKED BEANS, INDIVIDUAL STYLE

Empty a can of beans into a baking dish, cover with slices of bacon, and heat in a moderate oven for 20 to 30 minutes. Fill into individual bean pots, placing small squares of bacon on top of each serving. Or, fill pots direct from can, place small slices of the pork on top of each pot, and place in moderate oven for 30 minutes. Serve with steamed brown bread.

Today's Food Bargains

For generations, winter squash has been a vegetable mainstay in New England winter dietary. This season, squash is a conspicuously "good buy." New green cabbage from South Carolina, Florida and Texas has made its appearance in the Boston market. Beets and carrots, too, are coming in from the South and West. Meat prices remain very much the same as last week.

	Per lb.
Squash	3 1-3c
New Cabbage	5c to 7½c
Beets	7½c to 10c
Carrots	7½c to 10c
Chicken	29c to 33c
Fowl	31c to 35c
Corned Beef	27c to 33c
Pork Liver	21c to 23c

(These prices are quoted by the Mass. Dept. of Agriculture.)

CHILD'S TABLE MANNERS

You can't expect a 5-year-old to have perfect table manners, but you can "start him on the right road" by praising his attempts. A youngster who can't manage to get his food on his fork should be given a small piece of bread to use as a "pusher."

Fashion

KNIT HIM A SWEATER that'll give him for a little while the comfortable throwback feeling of a reckless yesterday when all he had on his mind was the improvement of his golf score! It will also be a change for you . . . knitting something else besides the regulation patterns you've been turning out so faithfully. This is more than usually interesting, because it's a sports sweater with an interesting new neckline . . . square instead of V . . . and it may be knit of a new sweater wool that's medium weight and moth-proofed for long wear. Grand under sports jackets. For your set of directions write Annice Brink, Fashion Editor, Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

PALE PASTEL SUITINGS PRIME SPRING FAVORITE

By BETTINA BEDWELL

COLOR, I may as well tell you, is one of the main things in styles for early spring. And colors that are okayed by the most important designers are often pale pastels rather than those more violent shades we've seen so much of this winter.

The simple tailored suit, for instance, has a new air of chic when it's made of wool in one of the smart light shades. A very light beige and a greige, which is the shade of a cocoon, are two of the best pale shades for suits. Pale gray is used a lot, and for those who like them there are many pastel shades like Nile green, aqua and turquoise, and soft but vivid rose.

The pale beige, in a smooth tweed is used for the Norman Hartnell suit sketched by Miss Dulin. It is an import from London, and the skirt is a wrap-around type that fastens at the left side of the front on copper disc buttons, made of plastic, not the metal. The short jacket fastens down the front on the copper buttons, and the pink shirt waist blouse also closes on the same kind of buttons.

Baering Down On the News

—By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER—

Ten years ago I told Carter Glass, "Carter, if a Senator lives to be old enough they will respect him."

Well, the grand old Virginian is eighty-four and still as spry as a dusty grasshopper.

He says we will win this war this year sure as a pump-handle is iron. When Carter was Secretary of the Treasury for Wilson he managed a war for fifty-four thousand million dollars.

Today it costs that much a year. That's because the watch dog of the treasury's bark is just as expensive as his bite.

It's worth every dime of it, for revenge is as sweet as a jelly doughnut.

Hub Fishermen's Strike Spreads, Perils Supply

Spread of a strike of Boston fishermen, which has already tied up 12 vessels, was anticipated today, with a threat developing that the fish supply here may be curtailed.

First attempts to iron out the dispute between fishing vessel owners and the Atlantic Fishermen's Union over a $5000 war risk for crew members failed. A lengthy conference was held under the direction of H. R. Caldwell of the Federal Board of Conciliation in Washington.

More than 200 fishermen are already idle, and crews of incoming vessels are expected to quit work. The union disclaims responsibility for the walkout and described it as a voluntary action by the men.

The owners, although contending the crew men are not employes but partners with earnings reaching as high as $7000 last year, offered to provide the insurance pending a final decision by a federal board.

The Union refused this offer and argued the matter should be referred to Maritime War Emergency Board now handling war risk insurance for merchant ship crews. Capt. Patrick J. McHugh of the Union said the government considers crew members employes and the owners pay social security for them.

Vatican Eyes Rio Parley

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 9 (Andl Agency to AP)—Vatican City officials expressing "great interest" in the forthcoming Pan-American conference at Rio De Janeiro, said today it was the Holy See's wish that "a just and lasting peace will return to the world and that the war does not spread farther."

"It can well be imagined what the Holy See's wishes are in connection with a conference one of whose main tasks is an examination of the new order on which the Pope gave his ideas and directives in a Christmas message to the world," it was stated.

Odd Twists In News Not All About War

WAR HARDSHIPS

HANNIBAL, Mo., Jan. 9 (AP)—Wartime restrictions have taken some of the joy out of life for the kids who have been boasting about their rides with Fire Chief Gwinner. Because of tire rationing, the chief has announced the department's practice of driving them to and from a WPA sponsored nursery school in his automobile will have to be abandoned.

BOOTS AND SADDLE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 9 (AP)—Tire rationing holds no fear for Willis Evans, traveling representative of a large pharmaceutical house. If his automobile becomes useless, Evans said: "My wife and I have three good saddle horses. I'll just stable them at key points in my territory and become a circuit rider."

GETS HIS MAN

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 9 (AP)—Shriff John Trierweiler was notified one of his prisoners, convalescing in a hospital, had escaped after stealing an orderly's clothing. Three hours later the prisoner, thumbing his way to the home of relatives at Princeton, flagged down a sedan south of Sullivan.

"Going South?" he asked.

"No, we're going back north," answered Sheriff Trierweiler as he jerked Fred Davis, 26, into the car.

ON AND OFF AGAIN

WABASH, Ind., Jan. 9 (AP)—In 1916, Wabash County commissioners approved a petition for a bridge over the Missinewa river at Somerset. Then the United States got into the World War and the idea was dropped. Later it was revived and the commissioners were ready to let a contract when the depression stopped them.

Still later they took the plan up again and were at work on a $52,000 project when the United States got into war again. Now County Engineer Asher Gray says the bridge is "dead issue for the duration."

"There is no possible chance," he explained, "of obtaining a priority order for steel."

LOUIS WILL K. O. BAER IN 6 ROUNDS---CONWAY

By JACK CONWAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—Joe Louis is a 6 to 1 favorite to successfully defend his title as world's heavyweight champion against the ponderous punches of Buddy Baer in their 15-round bout at the Garden tonight. The odds give a fair idea of how long the bout should last. The affair should be over inside of six rounds, with Louis the winner by a knockout.

The champion has gone back 50 per cent from the form he held at the time he knocked out Jimmy Braddock and Max Schmeling, but he should be good enough to stop Baer, who at his best was never more than a second class heavyweight.

$30 FOR RINGSIDE

The bout is expected to crack the records for receipts for an indoor boxing bout. The present mark is $201,613 and it was established by Shamus Maloney of South Boston and Jack Delaney of Bridgeport back in 1927, with a top price of $27.

International News Photograph Service

WHICH WILL IT BE?—Pictures of previous fight show that Buddy Baer is capable of flattening Joe Louis (Louis is shown being crashed through the ropes) and prove that the Bomber can take it and come back (he's shown strolling to his corner after putting Buddy down for full 10.) Disputes over Louis' victory in former meeting at Washington should be straightened out tonight when Buddy and the Bomber clash for Navy Relief Fund in N. Y. Garden.

Louis Ready to Perform for Army Fund

Joe Louis' generosity is without limit. Now he'd like to fight Billy Conn for the Army equivalent of the Navy Relief Society. If he is permitted to do so, the revenue will make tonight's fine show at the Garden seem like chickenfeed—for the next Louis-Conn match stacks up as a million dollar show.

As for tonight's Louis-Baer fight, Dan Morgan says "If Buddy uses his window-washing reach, keeps circling Joe and leans those 245 pounds on Joe, Buddy might last five rounds" . . . Fair enough estimate.

Rodger H. Pippen, sports editor of the Baltimore News-Post, rates an assist for tonight's great charity fight. It was Pippen, sitting near the bell-keeper in Washington last May, who jumped to his feet and yelled to Ancil Hoffman and Izzy Kline to demand that Louis be disqualified for hitting Buddy after the bell sounded, ending the sixth round. Hoffman obeyed, in fact, kept obeying until Referee Donovan disqualified Baer because Hoffman and Kline were in the ring when the bell sounded opening the seventh round.

Hall of Fame for Klem

They say nobody loves an umpire, but Bill Klem has gotten a number of votes in our poll of old time baseball fans. Veteran baseball enthusiasts rate the old arbitrator as more than worthy to join the immortals in the Cooperstown Hall of Fame.

Among those who are all in favor of Joe DiMaggio demanding and getting $80,000 for the 1942 season are the federal and state income tax collectors . . . Radio broadcasts of ball games will take a dizzy drop next season . . . During World War I, Army regulations permitted only one story to be telegraphed from baseball press boxes to the papers. It served for all the papers.

Protests Navy's Policy

Dan Burley, the colored sportswriter who has been criticizing Louis for fighting for the Navy Relief Society, writes me that he thinks Joe is the greatest fighter the ring has known but that he should have gotten some expression from the Navy, before fighting for its relief fund, regarding the Navy's future policy toward colored men.

"We are proud of the fact that the Army recognizes us and allows our youngsters to attend and graduate from West Point like all Americans, and to attain high rank in the Army as in the case of Gen. Benjamin O. Davis," Burley writes. "Negroes are getting a break in the air force, too. But there is no public record that the Navy is going to bring its colored men up from the galleys and mess halls, allow them to drop their shoe-shine brushes and grab guns and help fight for their country, instead of being lackeys and menials for it."

Louis has bought 14 seats for Fats Waller's concert at Carnegie Hall next Wednesday . . . Pardonably bursting with pride, George Marshall wired the following from Beverly Hills after his man, Sam Baugh, had passed to the third All Stars touchdown:

"Lot of people write about who is the best forward passer, but when you get them all together on one field, Uncle Sam does right fair."

Joe Faces 28th Again

About the first governmental move to make Hawaii tougher was Congress' routine approval of 15-round boxing matches for the islands, instead of 10-round limits. The legislation went through three days after Pearl Harbor was bombed . . . Wonder how many in the audience know Buddy Baer's first name? It's Jake . . . Louis was trying to make it 28 victories in a row the night he met Max Schmeling and got knocked out by the German. Tonight he'll try to stretch his new winning streak to 28 . . . If 6-foot, 6½-inch Buddy wins, he'll be the tallest champion since Goliath—Jess Willard was a quarter of an inch shorter than Buddy and Primo Carnera three quarters of an inch shorter, the runt.

'By a K.O.'--Louis 'I'll Win'--Baer

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Here are the final pre-battle statements of Joe Louis and Buddy Baer for their fight tonight.

LOUIS—I'm predicting a knockout. You know I never pick the round, but it'll be as soon as I can catch up to him. I'm in better condition right now than I have been for some time.

BAER—I'm going to win. We'll fight the kind of fight Louis decides to fight. If he wants to slug, I'll do that with him; if he elects to box, we'll fight it that way. The heat bothered me in Washington the last time I met Joe, but I'm in perfect condition now.

Boston alone contributed $50,000 to that impressive figure.

Ringside seats for tonight's show are $50.

The Navy Relief Society will benefit by more than $100,000 from the title bout.

Louis is giving his full share of the purse, which will amount to 40 per cent of the gate.

Mike Jacobs will give most of his profit as promoter.

BAER MUST GAMBLE

Baer will kick back to the Navy Relief Fund 2½ per cent of his 15 per cent of the cut.

Baer would probably have agreed to give his full share of the receipts to the charity if he felt he had better than an even chance of winning. Buddy is smart enough

Cabral Slight Choice Over Fighting Marine

The best of the local fight brigade, promising youngsters like Lefty Young, Fred Cabral, Dave "Golden Boy" Andrews, Bill Tordiglione, Larry Pacino, Sal Cesario and Johnny Daley, parade into the ring tonight at Mechanics Building in the Boston Boxing Ass'n's first 1942 show.

Highlights of the bang-up card are the eight-rounder between Young, U. S. Marine who is All-Service welterweight champion, and Cabral, best Portuguese fighter developed hereabouts since Al Mello, and the professional debut here of "Golden Boy" Andrews of Lowell.

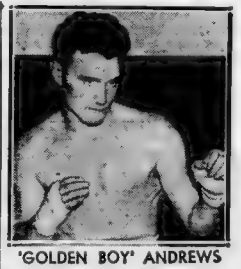
Andrews, who cleaned up every championship in amateur ranks including the All-America and National 147-pound titles, starts a quest for the world's crown against Jackie Collins, Roxbury boy, in a six-rounder.

The card:

Garvey Young, U. S. Marines vs. Fred Cabral, Cambridge, 8 rounds.

Sam Shumway, Webster vs. Eddie Misko, U. S. Coast Guard, 6 rounds.

Bill Tordiglione, North End vs. Eddie Ellis, Quincy, 6 rounds.



'GOLDEN BOY' ANDREWS

Dave Andrews, Lowell vs. Jackie Collins, Roxbury, 6 rounds.

Larry Pacino, Roxbury vs. Irish Johnny Smith, Quincy, 6 rounds.

Sal Cesario, North End vs. Johnny Studley, Brockton, 6 rounds.

Johnny Daley, Newton vs. Mal Smallwood, Boston, 4 rounds.

First bout at 8:15.

TERRIER LEADERS—Coach Mel Collard, left, and Capt. Jim Cassidy of Boston University basketball team lay plays for the invasion of Clark Institute quintet tomorrow night.

TERRIERS RETURN TO COURT AGAINST CLARK QUINTET

After a three-week layoff, Boston University's varsity basketball team swings back into action tomorrow night on its home court against a strong quintet from Clark.

The Terriers, boasting of straight victories over Wesleyan and American International, will be hard pressed to down the invaders from Worcester because of the unexpected loss of Walt Williams and Bill DeMerritt who joined the armed services last Wednesday.

Williams, who is one of the greatest all-round athletes in Boston University history, has been first string center on the hoop team ever since the first game of his sophomore year. Wally has always been up with the leading scorers and has been a great play-maker.

In his final college game against Wesleyan last month he caged 23 points to take the scoring lead on the team.

DeMerritt is a three-year veteran reserve forward who has seen plenty of action and his loss will be felt considerably.

Despite this, the Terriers should still be a good club. In Capt. Jim Cassidy, Charlie Thomas, Howie Mitchell and Joe Silver, Coach Mel Collard has four proven veterans. If either Langely or Tripp can fill the Williams gap, B. U. will still win its share of court games.

Millrose 600 Renamed To Honor Sheppard

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—The name of the Millrose 600, one of the features of the track and field games at Madison Square Garden, Feb. 7, has been changed to the Mel Sheppard 600 in honor of the famous Olympic champion who died last Sunday.

Sheppard, long connected with the Millrose A. A., is the former record holder at the distance, indoors and outdoors.

Harvard Plays Cornell Quintet

The Harvard basketball team bows in Eastern Intercollegiate League competition against Cornell tonight at the Harvard gym. On its good showing against five top flight Western teams during Christmas vacation, though losing to all five, the Harvard quintet is favored to top the Ithacans, runner-up to Dartmouth last season for the Ivy title.

The high-scoring pair of Joe Romano and "Chick" Lutz will start in the forward slots for the Crimson, with Ed Rothschild getting the nod over soph "Bunks" Burditt at center. While Don Lutze may be a last minute starter at either guard, Coach Earl Brown has tentatively nominated Ed Buckley and Capt. Chris Finegan for his inner cordon.

Travis Awaits Physical O. K.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 9 (INS)—Cecil Travis, No. 2 batter in the American League, today awaited a report on his Army physical examination at Ft. McPherson reception center. If he passed, the Washington Senators' shortstop will be inducted immediately.

"My country needs me, and I figure I'll learn a lot of things in this new life," Travis commented.

Pesky In Class 1-A

Army Calls Williams

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 9 (INS)—Ted Williams, batting champion of the American League, today was under orders to report immediately at Fort Snelling, Minn., for his final check-up and induction into the Army.

The 23-year-old Boston Red Sox outfielder passed a preliminary physical examination by Selective Service physicians yesterday.

"The Kid," going into the last game of the season with less than a .400 batting average, pounded out seven safeties to send his season total soaring to .406. He failed, however, to capture the Most Valuable award in the American League, Joe DiMaggio, of the champion N. Y. Yankees, hitting safely in 56 consecutive contests, catching the majority of the Baseball Writers' votes.

BEST EYE IN BASEBALL

Earlier this week the Boston Chapter of the Baseball Writers Ass'n announced that Teddy would be presented a plaque, symbolic of the Most Valuable player in 1941, at the Copley-Plaza Hotel, Jan. 28.

The plaque to be presented is in memory of Jake Morse, a great baseball writer and originator of the present system of scoring.

Two years ago Williams was awarded the Most Valuable plaque by the Boston Writers' in memory of Tim Murnane.

Conceded to have the sharpest batting eye in baseball, Ted broke up the All-Star game at Detroit last year, when with two out in the last part of the ninth inning, he blasted out a home run to bring victory to the American League.

Sox Learn Pesky Shifted to 1-A

Fenway Park got word yesterday that Johnny Pesky, rookie from Louisville, expected to become the Red Sox varsity shortstop next season, has been reclassified from 3-A to 1-A by his draft board in Portland, Ore., and is subject to call by the Army.

A brilliant fielder and solid hitter, Pesky was due to give Manager Joe Cronin a battle for the shortstop position. He and Eddie Pellagrini, Roxbury, two of the foremost young shortstops in the minors (Pellagrini was with San Diego) had Pilot Joe contemplating retirement to a role of bench manager and pinch hitter.

Oklahoma Player Denies Receiving Money From Sox

NORMAN, Okla., Jan. 9 (AP)—Lester Layton, University of Oklahoma baseball player, denied here an accusation by Dr. F. C. (Phog) Allen of Kansas U. that he was on the payroll of the Boston Red Sox.

"If the Red Sox are paying me, they are behind on the payments," the sophomore outfielder asserted. "I'm not getting anything from them and I never have."

Only Minor Changes Made in College Sports

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Making only minor adjustments because of the war, the athletic leaders of the principal eastern colleges drafted sports schedules for 1942-43 in at least half a dozen leagues and united in an optimistic attitude toward the future.

Asa S. Bushnell, executive director of the central office for eastern intercollegiate athletics, said he thought it was significant that the sports programs were being continued with a minimum of disruption.

"It was necessary to telescope some of the spring schedules slightly because of the plans of some colleges to advance their commencement dates, but in almost every case this meant only a rearrangement of dates and not abandonment of a part of the schedule," he explained.

A full 42-game program in the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League was retained with only a few changes in dates.

Six of the groups in session at the Biltmore Hotel elected presidents. They were Eastern Intercollegiate Golf Ass'n, James Hagan, Pitt; Intercollegiate Ice Hockey Ass'n, John M. Harmon, Boston University; Eastern Intercollegiate 160-pound Football League, Henry W. Clark, Lafayette; Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Ass'n, Lewis P. Andreas, Syracuse; Intercollegiate Fencing Ass'n, Ralph T. Jope, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Eastern Ass'n of Rowing Colleges, James Lynah, Cornell.

There was some discussion at a meeting of the executive council of the central office concerning holding the Intercollegiate A. A. A. A. track championships a week earlier than now scheduled, June 26-27, but it was decided to let the matter rest for the present.

Entries Close at Midnight For 7th Silver Skates Derby

All entries for the Seventh Annual American-Record Silver Skates Derby close at midnight tonight. Only those blanks postmarked before Saturday will be accepted as the committee settles down to the task of grading those already entered and planning the entire race program.

There is no entry fee and any amateur in New England, regardless of age, is eligible. All those over 18 must register with William C. Hill unless they reside in Connecticut. Those from Connecticut, over 18, must register with Jennie Engelmann in Windsor, Ct.

With the blanks that have been coming in there have been several letters. Space prohibits publishing many of them but two from Worcester are really worth while.

WON TWO TITLES

One letter is from Mary K. Burke, who won the girls' intermediate two years ago, and was senior champion last year. Since no title holders can defend she is ineligible this year. She writes to say.

"This year we have only two members to represent the family in your annual show. They are James, age 15, and Clare, the youngest girl, age 13. We place all our hopes on these two, the youngest members of the family, and I think that they will be right in there.

"I am quite let down myself because I am no longer eligible to compete in this classic. It has always been a great day for me—one of excitement and challenge—and it will surely seem odd for me to be sitting with the spectators.

"My brother Phil will not be able to compete as he is in the service of Uncle Sam as a Second Lieutenant in the Army, and my brother Bob is ferrying bombers for the British—we're proud of both of them and wouldn't want them to be doing anything else but just what they are now doing.

"I wish to take this opportunity to thank the Boston American and you (ed. note—meaning Ben Levias, director of the Derby) for all the favors you have extended to the 'Burkes' in the past three years."

Another letter from Mrs. H. P. O'Connor, also of Worcester, states:

"The Silver Skates Derby of 1942! What glad news that is for the youngsters. They all look forward to it and so do the proud parents. As usual the sponsors have a hearty handshake.

"Like last year, Mr. Levias, I am writing again—I do think that the little girls should show. Adults seem keyed up to see the little tots on ice and doing so well. This year no midgets?"

GOLD MEDAL SKATER

Mrs. O'Connor goes on to ask for a special class for juveniles, too, in the girls' races. It's quite impossible to race all classes as time prevents, but there will be a special race for girls under 12.

In addition to the racing there is also a brilliant array of stars headed by Arianne—the 18-year-old Swiss girl who is a Gold Medal skater—given for proficiency and emblematic of the European championship.

16 SCHOOLBOY SEXTETS DUEL AT ARENA, GARDEN

After three weeks of playing at the Arena, the Greater Boston Hockey League will be back in their usual haunts, the Boston Garden, for its fifth weekly round-up. The first game of the evening will start at 7 p. m.

The high riding Bay State circuit will continue to play on Arena ice.

A hot and cold Medford High outfit tangles with Newton's sextet in the initial game on the G. B. I. docket. The Mustangs of Medford are eager to win, so as to gain a three-way tie for the league lead with Melrose and Rindge, who participate in interleague games this week-end.

Belmont and Stoneham will take second ice. The loser faces a drop into the league's cellar.

Melrose will tangle with Eastern Massachusetts Malden in an interleague game. This tilt will be the last interleague clash of the year for the New England champions, as each team is compelled to play in only three over the route, and Melrose has already knocked over Wakefield and Hudson.

Arlington and Watertown (Bay State) will square off in another interleague game.

Undefeated Boston College high, with four wins to its credit, will mix with Waltham in the opening Bay State contest. The Eaglets, having its best season in years, should have little difficulty in tipping over the Watch City crew.

Coach Jim Moran has had his charges working out on Chandler Pond this week and claims that his sextet is in the best condition of the season.

Needham vs. Wellesley rounds out the league games while Quincy battles Cambridge Latin (GBI) and Walpole takes on Natick (Eastern Mass.) in interleague games.

GENE DRISCOLL, chairman of the boxing committee of the New England A. A. U., has been notified that the Chicago amateur boxing team that will compete in the All-America finals at the Boston Garden on Jan. 26 has already started intensive training. The Chicago boxers were picked following a tournament staged by the Catholic Youth Organization in which more than 500 simon pures competed.

For years Chicago has had some of the greatest amateur boxing teams in the country. In A. A. U. championships, boxers from Chicago have always given creditable accounts of themselves.

Chicago and New York have been the centers for the Golden Glove tournaments. Some of the boxers who will come here for the all-America finals have taken part in the Golden Glove championships.

It will be the first time in the history of the all-America tournament that Chicago has entered a team. Until now it was impossible to make the necessary arrangements for a Chicago team to compete.

"Chicago will send a fine team here and as a result this years' all-America final will be the greatest in the history of this tournament," said Gene Driscoll. "I am also pleased that the All-America committee was able to secure a team from Pittsburgh, which has also been noted for the excellence of its amateur boxers.

"Winners in the eastern finals from Cleveland, Buffalo and Albany along with our New England boxers will be back competing. In addition to Peppi and Buckjess, winners in the eastern finals, New England will also be represented by a full team. This will give the fans 32 of the leading amateur boxers in the country. It will be a real battle of champions."

Silver Skates Derby

These are active days for Ben Levias, director of the Silver Skates Derby which will be held at the Garden on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 18.

"There has been a last-minute rush of skaters to compete," said Levias. "I believe that this year's Derby will surpass the high marks set by the Derby in former years.

"Tickets for the Derby have been placed on sale with popular prices of 25 cents for persons under 12 years of age, 40 cents for older persons and 55 cents for reserved seats."

LOUIS WILL K.O. BAER BY SIXTH, CONWAY SAYS

to realize he will have a great deal of percentage running against him when he faces Louis' fistic fire and he wishes to end up with a little financial nourishment.

That Louis has gone back is proved by his weight. The champion scales well over 200 pounds which means he has packed on a great deal of inside fat which he could not remove during his training session.

It was evident a year ago that Louis was finding it difficult to take off weight. At that time Jack Blackburn, Louis' trainer, told me that Joe was not aiding his physical condition by owning a golf club. The easy life that goes with a golf club did not aid Louis in keeping his weight down.

If Baer is to win tonight, he must take chances and come out fighting in the first round. In the event Baer boxes coutiously, he will be cut down like Lou Nova was in his September bout with Louis. Baer gave Louis a scare in Washington last May. In that bout Baer knocked Louis through the ropes in the first round, and only lost when the champion scored a knockout after the bell sounded for the end of the sixth round.

DONOVAN BANNED

Arthur Donovan, who saved Louis' title in the Washington bout, will be barred as referee tonight. The boxing commission has not indicated its choice, but it has made it known that Donovan will not referee.

Baer has stated he would not enter the ring if Donovan was permitted to officiate.

It will be the first time in the history of heavyweight boxing that a champion has risked his title without compensation. Louis is entitled to much credit for donating his entire purse, about $80,000, to the Navy Relief Fund.

New York, like Boston, has been in the grip of a cold wave, but this is not expected to keep the attendance down tonight. A crowd of 20,000 and a gate of more than $201,000 is assured, according to Promoter Mike Jacobs.

Belknap Ski School Teaches U. S. Style

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

Now in full swing is the Belknap Ski School, a new arrival of the schuss business, under the direction of Earle Chandler of the Belknap Mountains Recreation Area, Laconia, N. H.

There has been sufficient snow at the Area to give instruction, and classes have been held daily.

In keeping with the trend of the times, the school is being run the American way. Skiing techniques will be adapted to suit the individual, and pupils will not be expected to follow a certain set style. Learning to ski can be fun!

COACHES HIGH SCHOOL

Earle Chandler was a member of the University of New Hampshire ski team for four years and captained the outfit in 1935. Since that time he has continued in the sport, and was one of the organizers of the Conway Ski Club, giving ski instruction in North Conway in 1936, a year previous to the coming of the present instructors.

Shortly after that, Earle was transferred from the U. S. Forest Service at Conway to Laconia, and has aided greatly in the development of skiing in this region. He was director of the Eastern championship jumping and cross country held there last year, and also ran all other ski tournaments at the area during the past three years.

Desirous of helping junior skiers, Earle coached the local high school team without any remuneration for three years, and will continue in this work this winter. This athlete is a director of the National Ski Association and a member of the U. S. E. A. S. A.

IMPRESSES SCHNEIBS

The Belknap Ski School will hold weekly slalom races for any skier who wishes to enter. Prizes in the form of ski pins will be awarded.

Welcome news is the announcement that Fred Noseworthy has been added to the staff of this ski school. Fred is now employed in defense work at Laconia and has given up his own ski school at Plymouth.

This chap is one of the best ski instructors in the East, having developed his own All-American technique. Taking lessons from Fred is really fun, yet it is possible to learn more from him in a few lessons than at some schools all season.

The likeable Noseworthy passed the U. S. E. A. S. A. certification test for instructors last spring at Lake Placid, N. Y. The famous Otto Schneibs ran the tests here and was very pleased with Fred's skiing. Otto also liked the way he put his instructions across orally, showing a fine understanding of the psychology of skiing.

Follow Tap Goodenough's ski stories every day in the Boston American sports pages.

NBA Prexy Seeks to Boost Infantile Fund

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (Wide World)—If you like Buddy Baer against Louis tonight you can practically write your own ticket with the betting boys, who aren't doing any business.

For the benefit of the Navy boys who can't listen in on the broadcast, Mike Jacobs is giving a free copy of the films for shows on shipboard and at the Naval stations . . .

Following up Buck Weaver's idea of buying "tickets" for the football bowl broadcasts, Chris R. Valley of New Orleans suggests that fight listeners should contribute either cash or defense stamps to the Navy Relief Fund . . . Fastest seling tickets for tonight's scrap were the $30 ones.

Walter (Rip) Van Winkle, Miami University Ohio) basketball coach, went to Cincinnati the other night to scout both teams in the Hanover-Cincinnati U. game. The regular referee failed to show up so Van Winkle was drafted for the job. He got the usual fee, but he complained, "I was so darned busy I didn't get much scouting done."

Abe Green, the N. B. A. president, has asked boxing commissions in the 37 states in his organization to stage benefit shows for the infantile paralysis fund . . . Another suggestion is that they set aside a month when every club and every fighter on the cards will contribute 1 per cent of the take. That wouldn't cost anybody much and likely would bring in more dough.

After 11 years as a regular with the football Giants, Mel Hein is negotiating for a coaching job with one of the bigger Eastern colleges.

Latest reports on the pro tennis tour is that the crowds have been just about half as big as anticipated . . . The major league baseballers hear from the railroad folks that they won't all get lower berths on this year's jaunts.

Sergt. Freddie Mills, the British youngster who looks so good they're talking about bringing him over here for a benefit fight, was given just 24 hours off from the Royal Air Force to fight Jack London. He won, which may interest some of our fighters who want a month's furlough to train.

Junie Andres, who was a basketball star at Indiana U. before he started to play third base for the Louisville Colonels, entertained two sets of fans when he helped the Great Lakes naval training station court squad lick Western Kentucky Teachers at Jeffersonville, Ind., the other night. He rang up 11 points for the home folks.

For the opening of the new bowling alleys at the Corpus Christi (Tex.) naval air school, two special sets of pins were provided—one bearing pictures of Hitler, the other pictures of Mussoini.

Old Sarge Gabby Street, who fought through two wars and innumerable baseball seasons, is looing for someone with influence enough to get him bac kinto the Army.

Reds Chase Road Jinx

By the Associated Press

The Rhode Island Reds finally have broken a spell which has prevented their winning away from home for almost two months, and, as a result, are in second place in the Eastern Division standings of the American Hockey League today.

Since Nov. 13, the Reds had played 14 games on the road without a victory until last night, when they edged out the Indianapolis Capitals, 4-3, at Indianapolis.

REDS TOP EAGLES

The triumph boosted the Reds a half game ahead of the New Haven Eagles, who lost, 8-3, to the Washington Lions in the only other contest, and left them four games behind the leading Springfield Indians.

Jack Forsey, Norm Calladine, Frank Boucher and Windy Steele accounted for the Reds' goals, with Jack Brown, Joe Fisher and Joe Sawyer netting the Caps' tallies. The score was deadlocked, 1-1, at the end of the first period, but Calladine's counter put Providence ahead in the second, and the Reds were never headed thereafter.

It was the second straight loss for the Caps and prevented them from gaining ground on the second place Cleveland Barons in the western division chase.

EAGLES ON SCORING SPREE

Washington scored five times in a wild third period to defeat the Eagles and move to within a game of third place in the East.

Lou Trudel rapped in two of the Lions' goals in the space of 15 seconds to increase his lead in the individual scoring race, while Teammate Polly Drouin accounted for one and assisted on two more. Despite the free scoring, only one penalty was called in the entire game, a two-minute sentence to Wilf Lamoureux, Washington defenseman.

BUCKLESS CLAN TEST GORDON IN PURE RING

Another member of the famous fighting family from Saugus, the Buckless clan, will try his hand at the boxing game Monday night when Gordon steps into the action in the novice 126-pound class in the Arena Diamond Belt competition.

This Irish-American program will be the fourth and final elimination series in the set of four Belt tryouts.

Competition will be in 12 classes, similar to the other elimination shows. Eight divisions at championship weights, 112-pounders to heavyweights, will command the attention of the open class performers while the novices will battle at 126, 135, 147 and 160 pounds.

All entries may be filed with Tom Kanaly at the Arena or Garden.

Among the new entries received yesterday were Eddie O'Grady, Hyde Park in the 118 pounds—Frank MacDougall, Roxbury and Bob Santoro, also from Roxbury in the 147 pounds—Harold Christenson, Hyde Park and Harold Varney, Roxbury in the 160 pounds and two big heavyweights—Gregory Basello, East Boston and John Jameson from Roxbury.

Ruppert Wish Granted, Estate Keeps Yanks

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Jake Ruppert, in whose heart baseball occupied a place as big as his gigantic brewery, may get his wish—long after death—that the New York Yankees remain in his estate. The war has closed the market on the world champions, not only "for the duration," but probably for a much longer time.

Byron Clark, Jr., who was the late colonel's personal attorney and is the active trustee for the ball club, said today that all prospect of a sale had vanished with the advent of war.

"I haven't heard anything from Jim Farley in a long time and no one else has shown any interest," he explained. "It would be impossible to raise any considerable amount of money under present conditions, so the whole thing is dead.

"Maybe it will turn out the way the colonel wanted, after all!"

$3,000,000 IN BASEBALL

When the 71-year-old bachelor Jacob Ruppert died three years ago this month, he left his entir fortun to three women—two of them nieces and the other a friend. The bulk of the estate, estimated at $100,000,000, was in brewery stock and real estate with his baseball holdings, including an elaborate minor league ftrm system, believed worth $5,000,000.

The Colonel separated the ball club from his other property in his will, however, and made express plans for its continuance under the Ruppert banner.

He directed that inheritance taxes on the ball club he paid out of the other portion of the estate and he set up a trusteeship to control the Yankees not only through the lifetime of his heiresses, but for as long as their children lived.

GOVERNMENT LENIENT

In spite of all these provisions, the executors of the Colonel's will decided soon after his death that the tremendous tax complications of the estate could best be solved by surrendering the ball club. But nobody has been able to get together enough money to swing the deal.

Clark said the government had not yet forced the issue on the taxes that are due.

"The law provides that the estate may be granted an extension from year to year while paying installments, but that no more than 10 years may be allowed for the payment," he explained.

"Last year, for instance, it was found that we had overpaid $300,000 in taxes. In one phase of the transaction. So instead of taking a refund we were given credit for that as an installment. Of course, those figures aren't precise, but they show that we are making out. Perhaps we can continue to do so."

Police Commissioner Lauds Hearst Citizen Shoot Tourney

Praise has been coming from all quarters for the William Randolph Hearst Citizen Marksmanship competition, which, in view of the present crisis is one of the finest public services any newspaper is doing today.

Military and civic leaders have lauded the shoot for its great value, including such men as Gov. Leverett K. Saltonstall, Col. Nathaniel C. Nash, Jr., president of the National Rifle Ass'n; Police Commr. Joseph Timilty and others.

Commr. Timilty said in part.

"The record of accomplishment made by Hearst Rifle Clubs throughout the nation has been a source of considerable reassurance to local law enforcement agencies and to military authorities as well, particularly in view of world conditions today."

This feeling has been prevalent throughout the country. Entries for the Hearst shoot are greater than ever before and interest has hit new heights.

Entries are being kept open until Jan. 30.

If your club or organization has not yet entered, send your blank along as soon as possible.

Olympics Prep For Johnstown

Boston's charging Olympics will sharpen their sights with an hour's workout at the Garden tonight as they prep for the all important series with the Johnstown Blue Birds slated for the Garden tomorrow night and Sunday afternoon.

The Sunday matinee is another bargain bill with the Junior Olympics and the Sands Point Tigers of the New York Met League opening at 12:30 p. m. The preliminary tilt is for the Lester Patrick Trophy. Junpics have a decided edge in this intercity rivalry.

Both Johnstown and Boston have four games to play in the Walker Cup race. At the present the locals have a five point margin, but they must stop the Flood City club to assure themselves of the silver mug. If the Harrington-led six do come through, it will be the first trophy of any kind that they have won since they entered league competition four years back.

Ban Alien Foes From Penn Rings

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8 (AP) The Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission today barred citizens of countries with which the United States is at war from boxing or wrestling in Pennsylvania.

The action followed that of the Illinois Boxing Commission, which banned Aldo Spoldi, Italian lightweight, from boxing in that state.

Chairman Leon Rains of the Pennsylvania Commission estimated between 40 and 50 "and possibly more" alien boxers and wrestlers have been competing in the United States.

RAMS FIVE DRUBS MAINE

KINGSTOWN, R. I., Jan. 9 (AP) —Rhode Island State's Rams travelled at a "two points a minute" clip last night to defeat the University of Maine basketball team, 79-48, and keep their perfect record intact.

Stutz Modzelewski accounted for 34 of Rhode Island's total.

PUNCHES FLY IN MONTREAL CHICAGO TILTS

By the Associated Press

Fist fights outnumbered the ice tilts in the National Hockey League last night.

The extra curricular activity was confined to Chicago, where the Blackhawks snapped a six-game losing streak by dumping the Montreal Canadiens 5-1 in a contest marked by three player battles.

But the evening's biggest thrill was turned in by the Brooklyn Americans, who stormed from behind with four goals in the final period to nip the Detroit Red Wings 5-4 at New York.

A fight for each period enlivened the proceedings at Chicago, and the third one out-lasted the game. Ken Reardon of Montreal and Joe Cooper of the Hawks drew major penalties for mixing it in the opening duel.

FIGHT ON MONTREAL BENCH

Then in the second stanza, Doug Bentley of Chicago and Joe Benoit of the Canadiens were sent to the penalty box for the same thing. That didn't stop the belligerents, who continued their joust in the cooler and held up the game several minutes.

The game-ending horn signalled the start of the main event, however, as players pitched into a general free-for-all on the Montreal bench and fists flew for five minutes.

Spectators and ushers jockeyed for vantage points, but the crowd didn't get into the battle and order finally was restored.

Because of the fights, the spectators nearly lost track of the performance of Chicago's Red Hamill, who tallied three goals. His first tied the score in the opening frame after Ray Getliffe had sent the Canadiens out in front.

BENSON'S WINNING GOAL

Hamill scored once in the second and again in the third, in which Doug Bentley and Alex Kaletz also beat Goalie Paul Bibeault.

Bill Benson was the hero of the Brooklyn triumph which pulled the Americans within one point of the fifth-place Red Wings.

Benson scored the tieing and winning goals in the last seven minutes of play, his clincher coming only 27 seconds from the end of the game.
